

W. D. MANLEY, BANKERS' TRUST PRESIDENT, INDICTED ON FELONY CHARGE IN LOCAL BANK INSOLVENCY

Widow and Relatives Accused by 'Pig Woman'

MRS. JANE GIBSON POINTS OUT THREE
SHE SAW AT SCENE

Slain Pastor's Widow,
"Willie" Stevens—Her Brother and Carpenter
Are Identified.

NEW ARREST MADE
IN 'CHOIR MYSTERY'

Spectators in crowded Courtroom Listen in Silence To Strange
Tale of "Pig Woman."

New Arrest Made
In Choir Mystery

Somerville, N. J., August 13.—(AP)—Willie Straub, of New Brunswick, was arrested today as a material witness in the "choir murder" mystery. Straub is alleged by Special Prosecutor Simpson to have been within 75 feet of the crabbapple tree when Mr. Hall and Mrs. Mills were killed.

Somerville, N. J., August 13.—Nearly four years after the Hall-Mills murders, two men and a woman have been identified as among those present at the scene of the murder of the Rev. Edward Wheel-Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills on the night of September 14, 1922.

The woman is Mrs. Francis Stevens Hall, widow of the slain pastor. The men are "Willie" Stevens, her brother, and Henry De La Bruyere Carpenter, her cousin. All three are under arrest.

Mrs. Jane Gibson, known to followers of the famous case as the "pig woman," today formally identified this suspected trio as those she had seen when she heard the shots that killed Hall and Mrs. Mills.

In her blunt, cold manner, Mrs. Gibson first pointed to Carpenter and Stevens, who were being arraigned on a first-degree murder charge, and later named Mrs. Hall as the woman she had seen kneeling nearby.

This was the most outspoken evidence forthcoming since the investigations of the case began. Most important, it was the first time the "pig woman" had named Mrs. Hall's two male relatives.

"Pig Woman" Tells Story.

Without any effort to create dramatic and picturesque effects, the "pig woman" portrayed, in her monosyllabic English, an indelible picture.

Carpenter, a member of the board of managers of the New York Cotton Exchange, and Stevens, a half-witted volunteer fireman, had been arrested Thursday night for the murders of the Rev. Mr. Hall and his beautiful choir singer, Mrs. Mills, and were being arraigned before County Judge Frank L. Cleary here. They pleaded not guilty.

I heard a wagon coming from Mill Street. I got up to see what it was rattling over and couldn't help hearing it. I thought it might be the man who had been stealing my hair off it," Powell said.

Continued on Page 7, Column 3.

Trio Held in Death Of Bert Donaldson Indicted by Jury

FRIDAY THE 13TH
PASSES TO JOY
OF SUPERSTITIOUS

Orlando, Fla., August 13.—(AP)—Frank H. Burns, manager of a local theater, believes he is the thirteenth man in Florida. Burns was born on Friday, August 13, 1900. On Friday August 13, 1913, he was 13 years old and on Friday, August 13, 1926 (the last two numerals of which are numerals of 13) Burns was 26—or twice 13—years old.

And that's not all. His daughter, Margery, was 13 months old today. Augusta, Ga., August 13.—(AP)—Billy Hardy, Boy Scout, paper carrier and son of a teacher in Richmond academy, was born August 13, 1913, and today celebrated his 13th birthday. His father, Professor Eric W. Hardy, while saying he is not at all superstitious, cautioned Mrs. Hardy to tie the 13 men shrouded young fellow to the bed post in order to get around any chance of bad luck overtaking him today.

Springfield, Ohio, August 13.—(AP)—Friday, the 13th, holds no terrors for Francis Fisher, local boy who is celebrating his 13th birthday today. Friday, August 13. He was born at 6:15 a. m. Friday, August 13, 1913, and among other distinctions wears a number 13 shirt, a number 13 collar and is of 13 grandchildren. He has a reputation for being "lucky."

Chicago, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Robert Scott, who pleaded guilty to murder in connection with the slaying of a Chicago drug clerk, Joseph Maurer, for whose killing his brother, Russell, is under sentence to hang in October, was taken today to Joliet to begin serving his life term for the crime.

Robert refused to talk as he was led from the county jail, remaining mute as the jail warden commented that it was Friday the 13th. He had no opportunity to say goodbye to his brother, Russell.

Lawton, Okla., August 13.—(AP)—Corporal George W. Wehling, of Post Field, tonight believes he has exploded the future superstition about Friday the thirteenth.

At 3:13 p. m., today he leaped 3,000 feet in a parachute from an airplane labeled No. 13, and landed 1,300 feet from his starting point. Lieutenant C. K. Kinney piloted the plane.

Wehling was scheduled to make the airplane ascension with a black cat as passenger. No cat was along, however, and the only explanation was that none could be found.

Indictments charging statutory offenses were returned against Mickey and Harry L. Hughes.

The Georgia prison commission Friday revoked the paroles issued to Mickey and Harry Hughes, brothers, arrested here in connection with the investigation of Donaldson. The brothers were automatically turned over to the Fulton county authorities,

Continued on Page 5, Column 3.

Doomed Man Cheats Chair By Starvation

Arkansas Negro Triumphs Over Court Sentence in Little Rock Cell.

Little Rock, Ark., August 13.—(AP)—An aged Arkansas negro went to his grave today triumphant in a slow and stealthy race against death by electrocution.

While Governor Tom J. Terral, campaigning the state, delayed fixing a date on which Tom Strubing, Crittenden county, should be executed for alleged murder under the "unwritten law," Strubing for 65 days refused the meals that were given him and died yesterday from pneumonia, induced by starvation.

He carried out his campaign despite the fact that several well-known citizens were preparing to appeal to the governor for clemency. Strubing had always denied that he killed his daughter some time before. Trial juries and the supreme court failed to accept the alibi which he offered.

His sentence was affirmed three months ago. Strubing was placed in cell with two other condemned negroes. On the day the other two were executed, Strubing began his fast.

Penitentiary authorities did not know of his intentions until about two weeks ago. He took the meals that were passed through the bars. It was not known, however, how he spent most of his time lying on his bunk refusing to exercise. All the time Strubing was consigning his untouched food to the drain pipes awaiting an occasional swallow of milk.

After his fast began, he went to the hospital he abandoned his attorney, a congenitally disabled man, and declared himself on the " hunger strike." Friends of the old negro believe, however, that his purpose was not to bid for freedom or commutation but in his own words to "beat the electric chair" by starvation.

Continued on Page 5, Column 1.

If You See a Moral to This Story, Take Heed

A man took home a basket of fine peaches and immediately ate ten of them. Possibly some of them digested, but some did not, and they started to make trouble. He began to feel badly, then worse, and just when he thought he'd die the doctor came. Yes, he got well all right, but it was a narrow escape.

There is nothing better than a juicy, ripe peach, but with all the other good things on the market, why try to eat up all the peaches?

Note the articles listed in the grocery, market and produce advertisements in this morning's Constitution: Every vegetable you can think of, fresh or canned. Every fruit that is grown, fresh or canned. There are meats of every kind, chickens, fresh fish, cured fish or canned fish.

There are jellies, preserves, honey, bread, cake, salads—but what is the use trying to mention them all? Get pencil and paper and make out your "over Sunday" list as you read the splendid offerings in the Constitution. Prices quoted are the last for the day, and it will save you time and money this hot (rainy) day to make your selections from The Constitution advertisements.

ADVERTISING IN THE CONSTITUTION PAYS
THE ADVERTISER AND SAVES THE BUYER.

TWO-THIRDS RULE CHANGE OPPOSED BY PARTY LEADERS

Abolition Appears Unlikely on Basis of Poll Taken by Democratic National Committee.

NO CHANCE SEEN FOR AL OR M'ADOO

Belief Is Retention of Two-Thirds Rule Will Prevent Another Smith-McAdoo Fight.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.
(Copyright, 1926, by The United News.)

Washington, August 13.—Abolition of the two-thirds rule in the next democratic national convention appears unlikely in the judgment of party leaders here. The contrary impression has been widely circulated. But the writer has seen the poll on which this report was based and it shows that of the 108 votes on the democratic national committee, 47 or eight less than a majority are favorable to abolition.

What is perhaps more significant is that some of the insiders have reached the conclusion that the agitation was a mistake and that it should be dropped. This amounts to a change of front on the part of some leaders who originally hailed the movement to abolish the two-thirds rule as a great reform that would save the party from another such humiliation as it received during the Madison Square Garden deadlock between Al Smith and McAdoo.

Smith, who rented an automobile from a local automobile rental agency prior to the Donaldson murder and also the day following the murder, was indicted by the grand jury on a charge of larceny after trust. The indictment alleges that he rented the car and converted it to his own use and that he kept the car with the intent to steal it.

An indictment charging pointing a pistol at another was returned against Joseph Hughes alias Claude Hughes alias Mickey Hughes it being alleged that on July 28, he, the accused, did intentionally point a pistol at and toward W. D. Garland, of 4 Luckie street. A second true bill against Mickey Hughes charged the carrying of a pistol.

Smith-McAdoo Feed.

Feeling is now growing that the abolition of the two-thirds rule would be the very thing to intensify the Smith-McAdoo feed by giving renewed hope to each side. Some are beginning to feel that the best way to side-step another such fight is to let the two-thirds rule stand. This in itself would be adequate warning to both sides that neither could win—with each holding a one-third veto.

This shift of view among party leaders is due to the rapidly growing intensity of the religious question as a political factor. This development was recently pointed out in three dispatches. During the last few weeks there have been a series of belligerent statements like that of Senator Caraway, Arkansas democrat, who said that Smith could never be elected president because of his religion and a similar remark by a prominent Methodist churchman.

Smith has urged into the recent Arkansas primary campaign candidates capitalizing their opposition to his nomination as a local political asset. The Ku Klux Klan which is controlled largely by southern democrats is to meet here next month to

Continued on Page 5, Column 4.

TO MAKE ATLANTA CULTURAL CAPITAL

Educational Heads Meet
To Plan Campaign for More and Better School Facilities in City.

Visualizing Atlanta as the great educational center of the nation and the southeast as the cultural center of the world, heads of various Atlanta educational institutions met in the Chamber of Commerce building Friday and agreed to act as members of an educational committee of the chamber of commerce, "Forward Atlanta, in education and culture."

He carried out his campaign despite the fact that several well-known citizens were preparing to appeal to the governor for clemency. Strubing had always denied that he killed his daughter some time before. Trial juries and the supreme court failed to accept the alibi which he offered.

His sentence was affirmed three months ago. Strubing was placed in cell with two other condemned negroes. On the day the other two were executed, Strubing began his fast.

Penitentiary authorities did not know of his intentions until about two weeks ago. He took the meals that were passed through the bars. It was not known, however, how he spent most of his time lying on his bunk refusing to exercise. All the time Strubing was consigning his untouched food to the drain pipes awaiting an occasional swallow of milk.

After his fast began, he went to the hospital he abandoned his attorney, a congenitally disabled man, and declared himself on the "hunger strike." Friends of the old negro believe, however, that his purpose was not to bid for freedom or commutation but in his own words to "beat the electric chair" by starvation.

Continued on Page 5, Column 1.

HANDS-OFF POLICY TOWARD MEXICO UNCHANGED BY U.S.

Knights of Columbus Chief Learns However, That Life and Property Will Be Protected.

KELLOGG LEAVES TO SEE COOLIDGE

Department of Interior in Mexico Declares There Is No Disorder Owing to Religious Situation.

CHARGES ARE DROPPED AGAINST ARCHBISHOP.

Mexico City, August 13.—(AP)—It is officially announced that President Calles, after a conference with Attorney General Ortiz has decided not to "congratulate" him on his formal charges against Archbishop Alonso Del Rio, of Mexico, because of an interview he recently gave to the correspondent of an American newspaper.

While details were withheld, it was said today after a visit of Secretary Hoover, of the commerce department, with Mr. Coolidge, that the government was attempting to improve the farm situation by steps which depended upon a coordinated effort of the agencies that provide agricultural credits to the country. Such moves as have been made, it was indicated, have been of a tentative character and directed through banks, insurance companies and mortgage loan concerns.

The department of the interior on Wednesday sent to the attorney general for decision whether it violated the constitutional clause forbidding the government or the fundamental laws of the country.

Washington, August 13.—(AP)—Emissaries of the Knights of Columbus who called today on Secretary Kellogg are believed to have gained a definite impression that the hands-off policy of the government regarding Mexico's domestic religious difficulties is to stand unchanged.

At the same time, however, property and personal rights of all Americans in Mexico will continue to be protected, however there is an attempted invasion of rights granted by treaty or conferred by international or Mexican law.

Hoover arrived from Washington this morning and left for Coolidge this noon.

In general, and apart from some loss in agriculture, textiles and bituminous coal, Mr. Hoover said the country was never in such excellent condition as at present. Even with agriculture, he added, there has been an improvement in prices of some commodities, while construction is 15 per cent greater in volume than a year ago.

Foreign Trade Conditions.

Asked by the president about foreign trade conditions, Mr. Hoover said export of manufacturers were up 20 per cent greater than last year, a favorable point, in the opinion of the president, who was said to regard the figures on such products as of more importance than those on raw materials entering the export trade, in so far as the balance of trade is concerned.

The foreign commerce of Europe is about the same as before the war, Mr. Hoover reported, with England showing a slight gain and Germany and France a slight loss. Reduced to pre-war prices, he added, the exports of the United States are 37 per cent greater than before the war and the imports 37 per cent greater.

There was a falling off in the American balance of trade last year as compared with the preceding year, it was explained, due largely to prices on three items. Although the amount of cotton and wheat exported was as large as the preceding year, it was said the prices were not as good as last year, meaning a reduction in terms of dollars.

At the same time, it was added, there was a large increase in the cost of rubber imported last year as compared with the preceding year, so that on the dollar basis imports showed an advance.

ATLANTA MAY GET AIR ROUTE POST TO MAKE ATLANTA CULTURAL CAPITAL

President Confers With Secretary of Commerce on National Blanket of Commercial Airways.

Paul Smith, N. Y., August 13.—(AP)—Plans for blanketing the country with a network of commercial airways were announced by Secretary Hoover, of the department of commerce, today during a visit with President Coolidge.

At the same time, the progress the department is making in supervising the development of commercial aviation was indicated when Mr. Coolidge approved two routes it recommended to be laid down, one for a transcontinental airway from New York to the Pacific coast and the other for a southwestern service from Chicago to Dallas and Fort Worth, Texas.

This will be the first step toward the realization of the air mail plan from New York to Chicago, Cleveland, Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Salt Lake City, San Francisco, Los Angeles, and San Diego.

The transcontinental route will follow the line of the air mail plan from New York to Chicago, Cleveland, Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Salt Lake City, San Francisco, Los Angeles, and San Diego.

Definite announcement concerning

Continued on Page 5, Column 2.

America Enjoying Record Prosperity, President Is Told

Optimistic Report of General Conditions in United States Is Given by Herbert Hoover.

GOVERNMENT AIDS FARM SITUATION

Distinct Improvement in Cotton Spinning Trade in Past Month Is Claimed by Hoover.

WINS IN ALABAMA

Central Press Photo
HUGO L. BLACK, Whose

WHERE ECONOMY RULES

Dependable Prices!

Whether specially reduced or regular prices, you can depend on all our prices being the lowest possible for high Quality Merchandise.

WHERE ECONOMY RULES

Thompson Seedless
GRAPES LB.

Serve them on the stem or in salads!

California Red Ball
LEMONS DOZ. 15c

Fine, juicy lemons for Tea or Lemonade

VIRGINIA COBBLER
POTATOES
5 Pounds for 9c

Clean and smooth—just the right size

A&P
Macaroni and Spaghetti and Noodles 9-Oz. Packages
2 Packages For 15c

VERY FANCY
ELBERTA PEACHES
4 Quart Basket 19c
Real GEORGIA Peaches

OLD-FASHIONED
LYE HOMINY

Healthy Food for Summer

2 No. 2 1/2 Cans 15c

MASON FRUIT
JARS

Pint Size, DOZ. 75c Quart Size DOZ. 95c

OUR OWN BLEND TEA
INDIA - CEYLON - JAVA
Served hot or cold, its flavor is sure to win you. Half Pound 25c

SULTANA
J E L L Y

Assorted Flavors
Made from the Pure Juice of Fruits with Apple Pectin

7-Ounce Jar 10c

A&P Apple Cider
VINEGAR

Pint Jug 12c Quart Jug 21c

Heinz Sweet Mixed

PICKLES
HEINZ QUALITY! 5-Oz. Jar 23c

BLUE PETER
Smoked Norwegian

Sardines

Packed in Pure OLIVE OIL

Can 12c

Evenly Baked BAMBY BREAD

Bamby Bread ingredients, which include the best wheat flour and butter shortening, can hardly be improved upon—it must follow that its baking process has received every improvement known to good bakers.

Purity Nut Lb. 25c
OLEOMARGARINE

Endorsed by modern housewives everywhere.

Hellmann's Blue Ribbon

MAYONNAISE Half-Pound Jar 25c

Unusual Value!

LUX SOAP Toilet Form 9c

Large Heads

Lettuce

PIGGY WIGGLY

ANNOUNCES THE OPENING OF A NEW STORE SATURDAY IN BEAUTIFUL AVONDALE ESTATES BUSINESS SECTION.

FLOWERS TO THE LADIES—MUSIC AND FREE DEMONSTRATIONS ALL DAY

BUTTER, Clo Gold Best Creamery Butter in Atlanta Lb. 37c

BACON, White's Southern Style—Rind Off Lb. 37c

EGGS, Brookfield Doz. 34c

Lettuce, Large Firm Heads Each 8c

CELERY, Large California Jumbo Stalk 14c

ORANGES, Large, Juicy 176 size Doz. 48c

Potatoes, No. 1 Fancy Cobblers Lb. 4c

ONIONS, White Wax, Lb. 5<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub>c

LEMONS, Large, Juicy 360 Size Doz. 19c

REX LARD, 4-Lb. Pail 89c 8-Lb. Pail $1.64

SNOWDRIFT, 1-Lb. 25c 2-Lb. 43c

WESSON OIL, Pts. 27c Qts. 52c

FLOUR, Beauty Biscuit, 24 Lbs. $1.64

OLIVES, Zenith, Pint 31c Quart 55c

Macaroni and Spaghetti, Skinner's 9c

CHEESE, Wisconsin Full Cream Lb. 25c

PURITY SALT, Package, 9c

OLD DUTCH CLEANSER, Can 7<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub>c

PALM OLIVE SOAP, Cake 8c

BLUE RIBBON MALT, Can 87c

QUALITY MARKETS IN PIGGY WIGGLY STORES

FIVE MORE GOOD VALUES

Fancy Lamb Legs ..... Lb. 28c

Fancy Lamb Loin Chops ..... Lb. 44c

Bacon, White's Southern style, rind off ..... Lb. 37c

Smoked Sausage, Country Style, "Our Own Make" ..... Lb. 28c

Pot Roast of Beef, Western Family ..... Lb. 19c

HOME-DRESSED HENS AND FRIERS, ALL KINDS OF COLD LUNCH MEATS AND PICKLES

CLEGG WILL MANAGE
PIGGY WIGGLY STORE

BOATWRIGHT FREED OF MURDER CHARGE

Washington, Ga., August 13.—(AP) Robert Boatwright, once convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of Barnes L. Lusk, another youth, walked out of the courthouse last night a free man. He was acquitted after an all-night session of the most prominent in this trial.

Love, romance, society and xanadu formed a colorful background to the murder trial which attracted great throngs from the countryside and families involving the young man the most prominent in this trial.

When the verdict was read this morning, Boatwright, somewhat paled by his long incarceration, stood erect. A glimmer of a smile broke over his face when his freedom was announced and he thanked the jurors for their verdict.

His acquittal came as a surprise to many gathered in the courtroom.

Misses Allene and Lois Lanceford, sisters of the plain man, were the chief witnesses for the state. Both testified that they were engaged to Boatwright at the same time, neither knowing of the other's engagement. Miss Allene was the only eye-witness to the shooting, on the night of which she cut Boatwright with a knife at the time the latter shot. During the first trial, however, she confessed that the statement about the knife was not correct and that it was made in order to shield the man to whom she was engaged.

"It was a lie to save Bob," she admitted. "I was lying then, but the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

She was the only eye-witness to the trial just ended, stating that it was not until after the tragedy that she learned of Boatwright's engagement to her sister, Lois, and that "she was then through with Robert for good."

Move Inaugurated To Bring Newspaper Publishers' 25th Convention Here in 1927

John A. Park, President of Association, Favors Plan; Acceptance of Invitation Is Expected.

John A. Park, publisher of The Raleigh (N. C.) Times and president of the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association, spent yesterday in Atlanta in conference with the publishers of the three Atlanta daily newspapers, The Journal, The Georgian-American and The Constitution, concerning the holding of the 25th annual convention of the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association in Atlanta. This association was organized in Atlanta 24 years ago and the next annual meeting will celebrate the 25th anniversary of its birth.

The last annual meeting of the association was held in Asheville in July at which time the decision was made that, in celebration of the 25th anniversary of the association, the next convention be held in Atlanta where the first meeting was held.

The proposal seemed to meet the general approval of the convention and President Park and the directors were authorized to look further into the matter and were empowered to act accordingly, subject to their approval.

Plans Discussed.

Mr. Park while in Atlanta met with local publishers at a conference at which tentative plans for an elaborate celebration of this memorable anniversary were discussed. He was enthusiastic concerning the proposal.

JOHN A. PARK.

that the next meeting of the body be held in Atlanta, where the association was organized twenty-five years ago and will recommend the change to the

NEW YORK ROUND $50.63 TRIP

From Atlanta

Rail and water via Savannah and ship including meals and stateroom accommodation. Tickets good for return any time within 15 days of date of sale. For reservations or further particulars apply to nearest agent or to W. H. Fogg, D. P. A., Central of Georgia Railway, 219 Healey Building, Atlanta, Ga.

Central of Georgia Railway Ocean Steamship Company of Savannah

CASH GROCERY CO.

831 Peachtree. HEmlock 4932-6633
WE DELIVER

ARMOUR'S STAR HAMS Whole Half 39c lb.

LAMB ROAST— Boned and Rolled	35c	SMOKE BEEF TONGUES, Lb.	38c
FANCY VEAL or Beef Roast	22c	SALT BOILING MEAT, Lb.	19c
POSTEL'S ELEGANT FLOUR	$1.49	CRISCO— 1-lb. Can	35c
WESSON OIL— Pints	23c	3 Lbs. BLUE ROSE RICE	25c

directors at a session scheduled to take place sometime this fall.

If the convention is held here, it will bring publishers from 15 southern states, who will represent more than 200 newspapers.

Atlanta is centrally located and offers fine opportunity to put on a big and good edition of the conference. We like to feel that Asheville is the regular place of meeting, as it has been for many years, but in this instance it seems that Atlanta is in the place.

I have been here to the Rotary convention and the meeting of the International Advertising Association and am thoroughly sold on Atlanta's hospitality and the famed Atlanta spirit. We know that if the session is held here, it will be a fitting commemoration of the quarter of a century the organization has had.

The Southern Friday was attended by J. S. Cohen and John A. Brice, of The Journal; F. A. Wilson-Lawrenson, of The Georgian; Clark Howell, Jr., business manager of The Constitution and George director of the association.

Acceptance Is Expected.

Mr. Park was elected president of the association at the 24th annual convention in July, 1926, at Asheville, and at the same time directors from each of the states were named as follows:

Walter C. Johnson, Chattanooga (Tenn.) Times, chairman; Victor H. Hanson, Birmingham (Ala.) News; J. S. Parks, Ft. Smith (Ark.) Times-Record; W. E. Parker, St. Augustine (Fla.) Record; Clark Howell, Jr., Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution; Urey Woodson, Owensboro (Ky.) Messenger; L. K. Nicholson, New Orleans (La.) Times-Picayune; Frederick Sullens, Jackson (Miss.) News; C. A. Webb, Asheville (N. C.) Citizen; K. G. Gandy, Oklahoma City (Okla.) Oklahoman; W. W. Holland, Spartanburg (S. C.) Herald and Journal; M. Stratton Foster, Clarksville (Tenn.) Leaf-Chronicle; A. E. Clarkson, Houston (Texas) Post-Dispatch; J. P. Fishburn, Roanoke (Va.) Times-World; W. G. Petrick, Clarksburg (W. Va.) Examiner.

The directors will soon decide where the convention will be held and urgent invitations to meet in Atlanta will have the endorsement of Atlanta publishers and local convention bureaus, civic and patriotic organizations and prominent citizens. It is expected that the invitation will be accepted.

Bomb Suspect In Miami To Get Sanity Hearing

Miami, Fla., August 13.—(AP)—Further action in the alleged plot to dynamite the home of H. A. Hamp, president of the Hialeah, Fla., Chamber of Commerce, will be taken at the "proper time," according to Ted Elliott, assistant county solicitor, late today. During his examination of Kenneth Greene, a promoter, held in the county jail here as a principal in the conspiracy.

Greene is being held in bond of $5,000, and according to the county solicitor, claims that W. A. Smith, who police say has confessed to the plot, approached him with an offer to blow up any house in Hialeah for the sum of $1,000. Greene said he did not accept the offer because he "wasn't interested."

The county solicitor would reveal no other aspects of the examination and when asked what action would be taken, he replied that none would be taken today, although some action would be taken "at the proper time."

Two physicians and a layman, composing a three-man committee, examined Greene in his cell this afternoon. Investigation of official records revealed that Greene had been declared insane on March 3, 1926, while confined in a local hospital. He was later released on parole. The committee appointed to him was to determine whether he was still mentally sound. A report will be submitted tomorrow morning, members said.

Greene's wife called at the county jail this afternoon and was denied admission. She informed county authorities, they said, that her husband was a "victim of a frame-up."

Now Is the Time To Get Your Gas Range

ITALIAN INQUIRIES

Questions Silence of U. S. on Mexico.

Rome, August 13.—The question of American silence during the religious controversy in Mexico is raised by Luigi Luzzatti, former premier of Italy, in an article published in the Italian press.

"Why does the United States remain silent?" asks the former premier. "Why, under the auspices of the holy father who is venerated by believers and respected by all, doesn't the League of Nations or some other association rise and declare to Mexico that humanity demands a cessation of this carnage?"

Luzzatti recalled the resolution passed at the eucharistic congress in Chicago that freedom of conscience should be granted to all sects, Turks, Jews and papists."

He charged that the severe manner Hams, George Washington and Benjamin Franklin as proof of his assertion that "Protestants, Catholics and people of other religions bow before the altar of religious liberty."

He charged that the severe manner in which the Catholic Church in Mexico was unique in civil history.

CHARLESTON TENTH IN NEGRO DEATHS

Washington, August 13.—(AP)—Charleston, S. C., ranked tenth during 1924 for deaths among negro infants under one year of age in proportion to population, figures compiled by the department of commerce reveal.

The census taken over 90 cities and towns throughout the country, each having a population of 10,000 or over and a negro population of either 10 per cent or 10,000, shows that during 1924, deaths among negro infants under one year of age still being excluded, amounted to 218.2 per thousand in Charleston. The only cities in the census having a higher death rate in this group were: Leavenworth, Kan.; Jeffersonville, Ind.; Cairo, Ill.; Paducah, Ky.; Staunton, Va.; Washington, D. C.; East St. Louis, Ill.; Winston-Salem, N. C., and Marion, Miss.

Spartanburg, S. C., was in 21st place with a death rate of 189.7 per thousand; Greenville was 24th with 181.8 per thousand; Columbia, 33d with 178.2; Florence, 58th, with 122.4; and Anderson in 63d place with 120.4 per thousand.

While a great plurality of negro deaths was shown over white deaths in this age group, no general regional difference among the negro death figures was apparent. Northern and southern and middle western cities with a fairly even representation at all places in the column, and Columbia, with a negro death rate of 120.1 was one place above Chicago, Ill., with 120.2 for the same race and age group.

Among the Carolina cities reported, Florence showed by far the largest death rate for white infants under one year of age, with 130.3 per thousand, reported. Spartanburg showed 101.8 per thousand; Columbia, 91.2; Charleston, 89.1; Anderson, 81.5, with Greenville in last place at 44.2 per thousand. Florence's 130.3 death rate per thousand of white infants under one year of age was the largest in the entire census area of 90 cities.

Blood To Save Life of Baby Given by Girls

Orlando, Fla., August 13.—(AP)—Three young women of Orlando today submitted to blood transfusion to save the life of a nine-month-old Orlando baby.

The three girls who supplied the blood were the Misses Annie and Lotte May Autrey, daughters of Mayor L. M. Autrey, and Josephine Rams.

The baby, whose life physicians believe may be saved by the girls, is the Ann Maguire, daughter of State Attorney and Mrs. R. F. Maguire.

Approximately 200 cubic centimeters of blood was taken from the three young women at Orange General Hospital today while other stories made to stand to the maximum in the hospital.

At the last report tonight the baby girl seemed improved and the three girls, who had come to her aid, were recovering.

Minister's Son Burned.

Lexington, Tenn., August 13.—(AP)—Hall Jowers, 21, son of the Rev. T. C. Jowers, Baptist minister and member of the county highway commission, was fatally burned late Thursday when the gasoline tank of a tractor with which he had been dragging the highway exploded as he was driving it into the lot at his home. He died early this morning.

MRS. CARL FISHER IS GIVEN DIVORCE

Orlando, Fla., August 13.—(AP)—Mrs. Carl Fisher, nee Watts, was granted a decree of divorce today by the Paris courts on ground of abandonment. The Fishers were married at Indianapolis, October 23, 1909.

Mrs. Nancy L. Krebs Chandler was given a divorce from Percy M. Chandler, of New York, on ground of abandonment, November 1, 1907, at Manchester, Va.

Mrs. Caroline Bayard Stevens Condon was awarded a decree against Edward Beach Condon on ground of abandonment. They were married at Bernardsville, N. J., June 30, 1921. Mrs. Condon, a member of the family which founded the Stevens Institute of Technology at Hoboken, N. J., died in 1919.

Criticizing modern aspects of the church he said that "from Roman Catholic to Unitarian, religion is big business."

Birth Limitation Inevitable, Says Brooklyn Doctor

Williamstown, Mass., August 13.—(AP)—Limitation of births is "inevitable and unavoidable," because of the fact that the population of the world is increasing every century, Joseph Krimsky, a Brooklyn physician, said today at the Institute of Politics.

Asserting that primitive man reported to infanticide, unless famine and plague intervene, to prevent a too rapid increase of their races, Dr. Krimsky said: "Civilized people should face the problem by resorting to birth control."

Dr. A. C. Diefenbach, editor of The Christian Register, speaking of religious matters, termed the current religious practical psychology to be given by Mrs. Rose Mae Ashby, psychologist. Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the mahogany room of the Ansley hotel.

TALLULAH FALLS
$1.50
SUNDAYS
Lv. Terminal Sta. 7:30 A. M.
SOUTHERN RAILWAY

What? With the thermometer playing a regular heat tattoo up in the high nineties, fire the furnace? Of course not! We don't need any more heat than we already have.

Sure. That's correct. But, did it ever occur to you that, when you eat heavy meals in the summer that you are actually "firing the heating plant in your body?" And that is one reason why you suffer unnecessarily with the heat.

You can turn off the heat in your body just like you turn it off in your radiators. Simply eat the right kind of foods and do not eat quite so much. Do this and you'll suffer less with the heat, besides feeling a great deal better.

A plenty of fruit, a reasonable amount of butter, eggs, milk, jams and jellies, with enough Merita Bread to satisfy the appetite. These are all wholesome, nourishing, energy-producing, easily digested foods that won't dull your wits or give you that good-for-nothing, groggy feeling.

Try It and See!

Fresh Daily From Your Grocer

Made by the

AMERICAN BAKERIES COMPANY

SPECIALS!

Now Is the Time To Get Your Gas Range

$1 Delivers Your Gas Range

REFRIGERATORS
40% Off

$1 Delivers Your Choice of these Refrigerators

SWIFT FURNITURE CO.

129 WHITEHALL ST.

STEAK ROUND, LB. 16c
LARD-LARD 15<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> lb. 21c

COMPOUND VEAL CHOPS, LB. 10c
VEAL SHOULDERS, WHOLE, LB. 10c
VEAL STEW, LB. 7c

BEEF ROAST, LB. 10c
MIXED SAUSAGE, LB. 10c
SLICED BACON 33c

BREAKFAST BACON, half or whole 28c
SALT MEAT 15c

Buy the Best Here for Less!

BUEHLER BROS.
17 WEST ALABAMA ST. & 35 N. PRYOR ST.

WAlnut 5384 WAlnut 2275

SWANSON DEFENDS U. S. DEBT TERMS

Paris, August 13.—(AP)—United States Senator Claude A. Swanson, of Virginia, interviewed on his arrival here today, defended the attitude of the United States on the war debt problem, declaring that he was surprised at the European attitude. He asserted that the United States has been generous in the settlement.

Citing the following: "The amount paid and that the payment asked was about half of the amount borrowed. He said that the United States felt that she had made sacrifices and expenditures during the war and had conducted herself in a way deserving the commendation and not the criticism of her allies."

"In making the debt settlement," Senator Swanson said, "America had borne in mind the sorrows, suffering and great losses of the allied nations. She fully appreciates the gallantry, courage and sacrifice of France, but also feels that the United States had a part in the war and that the allies have no cause for complaint."

"America found war existent. She had no responsibility in its creating, nor was she referred with reference concerning it, but she entered on account of flagrant violations of her rights. America stated that not doing something except the triumph of the allied cause and would ask no reparations of territories when the war ended."

The United States continued her loans until the allies had settled in the recent settlement, extending it 62 years. Various countries are given every opportunity to improve their industrial conditions before large payments were made. In 62 years conditions may change and the United States may be the distress nation. In the French settlement the United States recognises the old traditional friendship between the two countries, and sought no payments until France should be rehabilitated."

TARIFF CHANGE NEEDED, SAYS PAT HARRISON.

Paris, August 13.—(AP)—Senator Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, arrived in Paris today from Berlin where he spent three days studying the "European question."

One of his reports is that the European countries will not increase their debts to the United States unless their tariff barriers are lowered. Therefore, he said, the tariff question was bound to be a big one in the next session.

Senator Harrison declared that Germany was happy and contented, and he was sure the Germans would ready to start the new currency in accordance with the Dawes plan.

Mr. Harrison said that no congressman could go before his constituents and advocate cancellation of the European indebtedness. He had no idea that cancellation ever would come, although he admitted it would be a good idea if the U.S. and Berenger accord could be arranged. It was too lenient with France. He maintained that all debt settlements should be on the same grounds as the settlement with Great Britain, that all debtors should be treated alike.

TO MAKE ATLANTA CULTURAL CAPITAL

Continued from First Page.

call for an expansion of this to a great educational week during which educational activities would take place on the cultural side of the city would be widely advertised, similar to that given grand opera week.

Those attending the meeting were Mr. Barker, Dr. M. L. Brittain, president of the Georgia School of Technology; W. D. Hoffman, president of the chamber of commerce; Dr. Scott, principal of Washington seminary; Dr. R. T. Gillespie, president of the Columbia Theological seminary, which is being moved to Atlanta; Colonel J. C. Woodward, head of Georgia Military Academy; J. R. McCain, president of Agnes Scott College; Kenneth Weisiger, educational director of the Southern Bell Telephone company, and Dr. Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of Atlanta schools.

These with Dr. Harvey Cox, president of Emory university; Dr. James of the country but right here in the

Educational Heads Plan Cultural Capitol in Atlanta

Atlanta educational heads who met Friday at the chamber of commerce to inaugurate a move looking toward building the cultural capitol of the south in Atlanta through development of the city school system. Top row (left to right): L. D. Scott, J. R. McCain, William A. Sutton and R. T. Gillespie. Bottom row (left to right): B. S. Barker, J. C. Woodward, Kenneth Weisiger, Louise Marchman and M. L. Brittain.

J. Horton, president of Marist college; Dr. Thorwell Jacobs, president of Oglethorpe university; Miss Ross Woodberry, principal of Woodberry Female school; Dr. S. C. Smith, principal of North Avenue Presbyterian school, will act as the educational committee of the chamber of commerce.

Dr. Gillespie will act as chairman of the committee, and he with Dr. McCain and Colonel Woodward will act as the executive committee.

Round-table discussions of the best methods to expedite the program followed a luncheon served by the chamber of commerce. Various suggestions were offered by the speakers and the entire meeting was marked by enthusiasm.

In a short talk by Colonel Woodward, he termed one of the best schools of Atlanta as an "educational renaissance." "Atlanta is the logical center of the south," he declared, "and we have here the educational facilities for making it the educational center of the nation."

"When we consider the diversity of the land and the geographical location of Atlanta, we are forced to the conclusion that Atlanta is the real Gate City to the south. And with these facts in view we cannot afford to neglect our great educational institutions."

Real American Education.

"The problems of our schools must be solved by the school leaders. The outside world will not come in and solve them for us. We must stand squarely behind our schools and advertise to the world that the schools' sake and not for furtherance of financial plans for Atlanta."

Hearty endorsement of the plan to promulgate civic feeling toward Atlanta schools was given by Dr. Brittain. He also advocated placing higher education "within the reach of all." He was most moved by the women so impressed with educational facilities that they will want to come to Atlanta," he said.

A bright future for Atlanta along educational lines was outlined by Dr. Scott in a short talk. He was pleased that he could cooperate in every way possible with the committee toward creating more interest in educational institutions of the city.

"I know of no place in the world where real Americans can get real American education with a cultural background better than Atlanta. I consider the present movement one of the best that has been advertised in Atlanta in years. I have traveled in all parts of the country but right here in the south we have the great cultural background to attract students here."

An effort will be made by the committee to obtain cooperation from all civic clubs and fraternal ministers of the city. Tentative plans will include a public campaign of new students coming to Atlanta this year, which probably will be held in October.

Cooperation Assured.

It is hoped to enlarge this reception to a great educational week in Atlanta, which will be as highly advertised as grand opera week. It will be in the hands of the committee to arrange this and it was indicated that prominent speakers will be assigned to the various civic clubs to discuss the plan at early date.

Further cooperation of the chamber of commerce was pledged when Mr. Barker announced that after the issue of The City Builder is distributed, enough of the school matter would be saved to print an attractive booklet to be used as an advertisement for schools in Atlanta.

"Not far from here," he said, "I were back where I was, but you know how impossible that is. May see you soon."

(Signed) "ABE."

The other, a regular change of address card, similar to the one received by Judge Humphries, carried the following message:

"Old Address: Atlanta (Baltimore), Ga. Gone for good, if not overtaken by death. Wish I were back where I was, but you know how impossible that is. May see you soon."

(Signed) "ABE POWERS."

Both messages were typewritten and bore only the date received.

Judge Humphries is commenting on the receipt of the cards stated that he didn't have the least idea whether they were really sent from Powers; however, he expressed a doubt as to their genuineness.

TWO-THIRDS RULE CHANGE OPPOSED

Continued from First Page.

lay its strategy for the coming two years and there is every indication that it intends to make a supreme effort to block Smith's presidential chances. In 1924 convention most of the kalm strength was concentrated behind McAdoo.

Causes Deep Concern.

This situation, growing in intensity rather than diminishing, is causing anxiety among the political leaders who forced the fatal consequences of another Klan-Catholic fight at their next national convention. That is why they are hoping now, by urging the retention of the two-thirds rule, to serve advance notice that neither one can be nominated.

So far as can be learned this shift emanated from sources independent of both candidates. The fact is that both the Smith and the McAdoo supporters now favor abolition of the two-thirds rule, each side believing that it could win in a show-down if only a simple majority were required to nominate. The first open move was made in January by a McAdoo man, Claude L. Herring, Iowa national committee. There is reason to believe that he had previously received a favorable reaction from the Smith side.

At any rate it was only a few days before Smith's national committee, Norman E. Mack, New York national chairman, proposed that the movement to abolish the two-thirds rule. Herring then undertook to poll the national committee composed of two members from each state and two from each of the territorial possessions.

Votes for Abolition.

This poll showed McAdoo's state, California, registering both votes in favor of abolition, likewise New York state and Illinois which is controlled by George B. Smith, chairman of the Smith. West Virginia, the home of Clem Shaver, democratic national chairman, cast two votes against abolition. Though Shaver is not a committee man, it is presumed that the two votes were cast with his approval.

The result was 47 for abolition and 9 against. Fifty-five favorable votes would have been needed to control the national committee. It is said that some of those who originally voted for abolition are now shifting and that perhaps a new poll would show a shift of ten votes.

The democratic committee has no mandatory power to fix the convention's rules but its recommendation would carry a great weight. Certainly if it goes on record against abolition as it might conceivably do if the sentiment of insiders is representative, the national convention would have difficulty in agreeing at. The committee probably will hold a meeting here shortly after the fall elections to thresh the question out.

LAWYERS' CLUB HEARS TWO JUDGES SPEAK

Continued from First Page.

and operation, the institution became "fraudulently insolvent."

That on the 12th day of July, 1926, with force and arms being then and there president of the Farmers and Traders' bank, a chartered bank, incorporated under the laws of Georgia, and as such president of said chartered bank, he, the accused, being by then and there charged with the fair and legal administration of the business and affairs of the said Farmers and Traders' bank, then and there pending and during the said official charge and responsibility, of the said W. D. Manley, as president thereof, of the said Farmers and Traders' bank, as aforesaid did then and there become evidently insolvent, contrary to the laws of the state, the good order, peace and the dignity thereof."

The grand jury will continue to delve into the records, books and affidavits of the Bankers' Trust company, according to Solicitor General Boykin. Approximately 100 indictments charging various officials throughout the state are expected to be returned before the investigation is brought to a close, according to attaches in the office of the solicitor.

BANKER MANLEY INDICTED BY JURY

Continued from First Page.

and operation, the institution became "fraudulently insolvent."

That on the 12th day of July, 1926,

with force and arms being then and there president of the Farmers and Traders' bank, a chartered bank, incorporated under the laws of Georgia, and as such president of said chartered bank, he, the accused, being by then and there charged with the fair and legal administration of the business and affairs of the said Farmers and Traders' bank, then and there pending and during the said official charge and responsibility, of the said W. D. Manley, as president thereof, of the said Farmers and Traders' bank, as aforesaid did then and there become evidently insolvent, contrary to the laws of the state, the good order, peace and the dignity thereof."

The grand jury will continue to dive into the records, books and affidavits of the Bankers' Trust company,

according to Solicitor General Boykin. Approximately 100 indictments

charging various officials throughout the state are expected to be returned

before the investigation is brought to a close, according to attaches in the office of the solicitor.

DRY OFFICIALS HIT IN LIQUOR DEATHS

New York, August 13.—Charges of manslaughter in the second degree should be brought against federal officers who cause death by having wood alcohol or other poison put in beverage alcohol. Congressman Loring M. Black, Jr., of New York, said Friday afternoon walked to freedom from Fulton tower.

One of the cards showed a colored view of the Candler building and carried the following message:

"Not far from here. Wish I were back where I was, but you know how impossible that is. May see you soon."

(Signed) "ABE."

The other, a regular change of address card, similar to the one received by Judge Humphries, carried the following message:

"Old Address: Atlanta (Baltimore), Ga. Gone for good, if not overtaken by death. Wish I were back where I was, but you know how impossible that is. May see you soon."

(Signed) "ABE POWERS."

Both messages were typewritten and bore only the date received.

Judge Humphries is commenting on the receipt of the cards stated that he didn't have the least idea whether they were really sent from Powers; however, he expressed a doubt as to their genuineness.

TO TWO-THIRDS RULE CHANGE OPPOSED

Continued from First Page.

lays its strategy for the coming two years and there is every indication that it intends to make a supreme effort to block Smith's presidential chances. In 1924 convention most of the kalm strength was concentrated behind McAdoo.

Causes Deep Concern.

This situation, growing in intensity rather than diminishing, is causing anxiety among the political leaders who forced the fatal consequences of another Klan-Catholic fight at their next national convention. That is why they are hoping now, by urging the retention of the two-thirds rule, to serve advance notice that neither one can be nominated.

So far as can be learned this shift emanated from sources independent of both candidates. The fact is that both the Smith and the McAdoo supporters now favor abolition of the two-thirds rule, each side believing that it could win in a show-down if only a simple majority were required to nominate. The first open move was made in January by a McAdoo man, Claude L. Herring, Iowa national committee. There is reason to believe that he had previously received a favorable reaction from the Smith side.

At any rate it was only a few days before Smith's national committee, Norman E. Mack, New York national chairman, proposed that the movement to abolish the two-thirds rule. Herring then undertook to poll the national committee composed of two members from each state and two from each of the territorial possessions.

Votes for Abolition.

This poll showed McAdoo's state, California, registering both votes in favor of abolition, likewise New York state and Illinois which is controlled by George B. Smith, chairman of the Smith. West Virginia, the home of Clem Shaver, democratic national chairman, cast two votes against abolition. Though Shaver is not a committee man, it is presumed that the two votes were cast with his approval.

The result was 47 for abolition and 9 against. Fifty-five favorable votes would have been needed to control the national committee. It is said that some of those who originally voted for abolition are now shifting and that perhaps a new poll would show a shift of ten votes.

LAWYERS' CLUB HEARS TWO JUDGES SPEAK

Continued from First Page.

and operation, the institution became "fraudulently insolvent."

That on the 12th day of July, 1926,

with force and arms being then and there president of the Farmers and Traders' bank, a chartered bank, incorporated under the laws of Georgia, and as such president of said chartered bank, he, the accused, being by then and there charged with the fair and legal administration of the business and affairs of the said Farmers and Traders' bank, then and there pending and during the said official charge and responsibility, of the said W. D. Manley, as president thereof,

of the said Farmers and Traders' bank, as aforesaid did then and there become evidently insolvent, contrary to the laws of the state, the good order, peace and the dignity thereof."

The grand jury will continue to

dive into the records, books and affidavits of the Bankers' Trust company,

according to Solicitor General Boykin. Approximately 100 indictments

charging various officials throughout the state are expected to be returned

before the investigation is brought to a close, according to attaches in the office of the solicitor.

A Tonic For Pale, Delicate Women and Children

Continued from First Page.

and operation, the institution became "fraudulently insolvent."

That on the 12th day of July, 1926,

with force and arms being then and there president of the Farmers and Traders' bank, a chartered bank, incorporated under the laws of Georgia, and as such president of said chartered bank, he, the accused, being by then and there charged with the fair and legal administration of the business and affairs of the said Farmers and Traders' bank, then and there pending and during the said official charge and responsibility, of the said W. D. Manley, as president thereof,

of the said Farmers and Traders' bank, as aforesaid did then and there become evidently insolvent, contrary to the laws of the state, the good order, peace and the dignity thereof."

The grand jury will continue to

dive into the records, books and affidavits of the Bankers' Trust company,

according to Solicitor General Boykin. Approximately 100 indictments

Entered at the Postoffice of Atlanta as Second-class mail matter.

Telephone, Walnut 8625.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:
By Carrier or Mail
Daily . . . . . 25¢ 50¢ 75¢ 1.00
Sunday . . . . . 25¢ 50¢ 75¢ 1.00
Single Copy . . . . . 25¢ 50¢ 75¢ 1.00
By Mail Only . . . . . 10¢ 25¢ 50¢ 75¢ 1.00
Sunday . . . . . 10¢ 25¢ 50¢ 75¢ 1.00

ATLANTA, GA., AUGUST 14, 1926.

J. E. ROLLARD, Constitution Building, main advertising manager for all territory outside of Atlanta.

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale now.
For "CITY" go to "Metaling's" News Stand, Newsway and Forty-third Street. ("Times buying corner") "The News" Newsway Savannah Park, and Grand Central Depot.

The Constitution is not responsible for any statements or opinions given by advertisers or agents. Receipts are given for subscription payments, but it is not responsible for subscription payments until received at office of publication.

Member of the Associated Press.
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to all news stories given to it or otherwise credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper, and also the local news published herein.

RECKLESS "ROUGHNECKS."

On this page is a very sensible and clear-cut communication from Mrs. B. H. Howard, editor of The Dawsonville (Ga.) Advertiser and mayor of Dawsonville, stating facts as to a recent generally circulated, but unpublished, report that hoodlums had "jerked negro chauffeurs" from the automobiles they were driving through that town and community.

It appears that the only foundation for the report was that some man, "a roughneck," as Mayor Howard terms him, who was not a resident of Dawsonville, and who was drinking and subsequently arrested and indicted, did accost a negro chauffeur at a filling station and tell him to get out and not return that way—or something of that sort.

It is well that the public should have the facts as so clearly stated by Mrs. Howard, for it is undeniable that in the past few years thousands of motorists have been divered from the Cumming-Dawsonville-Dahlonega route to northeast Georgia and to western North Carolina by reports of intolerant treatment accorded negro chauffeurs when peacefully passing through.

This situation has cost those counties—particularly Forsyth and Dawson—far more than can be estimated, in good will, and in dollars and cents.

It is to close the door of opportunity to close a county to travel.
It is customary in the south to have negro chauffeurs just as it is customary to have negro domes-ties. Therefore, there is no denying the damage that has been done.

There are no better people in Georgia than in the mountain section of Georgia.

For several years The Constitution vigorously exposed the conditions in Dawson and Forsyth counties that were so destructive to the best interests of those counties, and as a result two years ago the good citizens in Cumming and Dawsonville agreed in mass meeting to put an end to further intolerance. And they did. Since that time a peaceful, law-abiding negro has been as free from molestation in that as in any other section of the state.

It is unfortunate that even an institution should have been made for recent rumors, but in reality the act of "a drinking outsider" should not condemn a good people who are making earnest efforts to repair the injuries that hoodlums have created in the past.

THE ANTI-TRUST FARCE.

The complaint brought by the department of justice against a large number of southern hardware jobbers, charging restraint of trade, elimination of competition and other things allegedly in violation of the anti-trust laws, calls to mind not only the weakness of these laws,
but the more marked weakness of
their enforcement during recent years.

W. J. Donovan, of the department of justice, has admitted that the so-called anti-trust laws are admittedly weak and need strengthening. But there are many outstanding illustrations
of a still weaker administration of the laws we have. The action taken, several months ago
against the bread trust will illustrate. It will be recalled the government rejected the Ward Food Products corporation to surrender its charter. It embraced six other great companies. The companies were divided into groups and for-bidden to hold each other's stock or securities. As a part of the agreement, however, one of the big corporations remained undisturbed
in possession of 83 bakeries.

Whatever may or may not be the merit of its complaints against the
southern hardware dealers—it is a fact that the methods employed by the federal trade commission and the department of justice in handling similar complaints in other lines have not encouraged the hope that the hearings may be entirely
fair, or above criticism.

The problem of the government's dealing with monopoly and alleged monopoly is seriously in need of review.

Justice Taft Improves.

Quebec, August 13.—(UPI)—Chief Justice Taft of the United States, who was ill at his summer home at Murray Bay, Quebec, was reported
today as continuing to improve. Mr.
Taft caught a very severe cold and while a white friend was afraid that he might never leave his bed.

Sometimes stump politics talks
like stump liquor.

President Coolidge talks so literally, it's a wonder that the big fish ever swim in his.

The Georgia issue—for which no
compensation was sought or provided—will be a tremendous force

in turning the eyes of the nation upon a state rich with resources and opportunities.

FRANK G. BELL.

The newspaper fraternity in the south loses an outstanding figure in the death of Frank G. Bell, president and manager of The Savannah Morning News.

For more than 40 years he had been identified with The News, entering the service in 1883 as an advertising solicitor. At that time, and many years subsequently, the paper was owned and edited by the late Colonel J. H. Estill, who was also conspicuous in the public life of the state. From solicitor he was advanced to advertising manager, and thence to business manager.
Upon the death of Colonel Estill in 1907 Mr. Bell became the executive head of The News.

While he did not seek public office, taking the very correct position that a newspaper man can serve best through the columns of his paper, he took an active part in all civic and economic undertakings, and was a leader in all the world-wide activities in Savannah and Georgia. The News has always maintained a high and dignified position of progressive conservatism—that is, a conservatism as differentiated from radical or fanatical thought, and yet progressive in everything looking to the material welfare of all the people. It has been a consistent exponent of balanced agriculture, a coordinated system of paved highways, educational expansion, good government, and high living ideals. The inspiration of Mr. Bell was always reflected not only in the editorial columns, but in the clean, altruistic spirit of newspaper making so well exemplified by The Morning
News every day in the year.

Georgia loses an able and useful citizen in Frank Bell, and Savan-nah's loss of a virile, constructive force is almost irreparable.

STANDARDIZING COTTON.

It is unfortunate that the cotton conference held in London Wednesday could not see its way clear to adopt universal standards for the length of fiber. It was attended by representatives of cotton manufacturing and marketing associations from all over the world, there being nine representatives from America.
The English delegates blocked the program as outlined by the United States department of agriculture.
Another meeting will be held in 1927 in Washington, and at that time it is hoped that the universal standard proposal may be more popular.

The present grade and color agreements are working most satisfactorily, but the fact that there is no standardization of staple lengths not only adds unnecessary confusion in cotton marketing, but works serious hardships upon producers.

There is a distinctive demand for
every staple length, the longer fiber,
of course, being the most valuable.
And yet mills making one article
may use only one length staple,
those making another article still another length staple, and so on.

The long staples are frequently
penalized by being sold on grade markings only, whereas the short staples would not be penalized—
as they have a definite market
of their own—in the event there should be established a universal standardization.

It is a merchandising problem
that ought to be solved in the interest of fairness to growers.

THE ANTI-TRUST FARCE.

The complaint brought by the department of justice against a large number of southern hardware jobbers, charging restraint of trade,
elimination of competition and other things allegedly in violation of the anti-trust laws, calls to mind not
only the weakness of these laws,
but the more marked weakness of
their enforcement during recent years.

W. J. Donovan, of the department of justice, has admitted that the
so-called anti-trust laws are admittedly weak and need strengthening. But there are many outstanding illustrations
of a still weaker administration of the laws we have. The
action taken, several months ago
against the bread trust will illustrate. It will be recalled the government rejected the Ward Food Products corporation to surrender
its charter. It embraced six other great companies. The companies were divided into groups and for-bidden to hold each other's stock or securities. As a part of the agreement, however, one of the big corporations remained undisturbed
in possession of 83 bakeries.

Whatever may or may not be the
merit of its complaints against the
southern hardware dealers—it is a fact that the methods employed by
the federal trade commission and
the department of justice in handling similar complaints in other
lines have not encouraged the hope that the hearings may be entirely
fair, or above criticism.

The problem of the government's dealing with monopoly and alleged monopoly is seriously in need of review.

Justice Taft Improves.

Quebec, August 13.—(UPI)—Chief Justice Taft of the United States, who
was ill at his summer home at Murray Bay, Quebec, was reported
today as continuing to improve. Mr.
Taft caught a very severe cold and
while a white friend was afraid that
he might never leave his bed.

Sometimes stump politics talks
like stump liquor.

President Coolidge talks so literally, it's a wonder that the big fish
ever swim in his.

The Georgia issue—for which no
compensation was sought or provided—will be a tremendous force

Just From Georgia
BY FRANK L. STANTON

The Two Guests.

Fortune, knocking at my door, Lucky grace did win.
Knew that I was old and poor, Yet wouldn't let him in.
Wherefore should I treat him
so?
With his gold, to let him go?
II.
He had placed his gold above

All that made life sweet,
And I heard a song of Love
On Life's lonely street.
Love, a beggar, to my door
Came—and now I want no more.

Now, Say Grace!

It's the halleluia feeling for Editor Shannon, of the Commerce News who says:

It is almost enough to make a shouting Methodist give a whoop or two to hear about the fine corn that is growing all over this country. On all the rivers and creeks and on the uplands, too, it is as black as the probable crowd and rich lowlands the corn is almost black enough to call out the lightning bugs in the middle of the day.

The Last "Goodnight."
Goodnight, love, until tomorrow, Though long the night may seem to be.
Endless is the glad tomorrow—

The morrow of Eternity:
This night will pass as sweetly, dear,
As passed the tears in childhood wept,
And parting will, like Youthtime's dreams,
Grow sweet when in Memory kept.
I bid goodnight, from doubt as free
That we shall meet Beyond, sweetheart.

As when at love's trust, lovers kiss
Goodnight, love, as life's twilight lies,
I see heaven's dawn-light in thine eyes.

ROSE HUBNER.

Weather That Bells Over.
The Chanute Tribune is keeping tab on the weather and gives this account of "Yesterday at three the mercury boiled and sizzled in the thermometer and the machine registered 104. It was hot, but a new record was being made, the high record of the summer was being duplicated and the heat did not seem to bother. It is ordinary heat from 96 to 100, heat that is not making any records or getting any heat."

"We still decline to run for office," says The Whitsett Courier, "for then we'd have to forego the pleasure of flaying a lot of candidates alive—our favorite enemies included. We want a fresh hand."

A Song.

Song of a bluebird winging on high,
Seeking its mate in clouds of the sky;
Song of my heart, love, sighing for you.

Searching the dark where the skies were once blue.

—ETHEL DE LISSELINE.

Candidates are crowding so, the rule must be, "Let no little office escape."

Mayor of Dawsonville Ascribes Trouble To A Few "Roughnecks"

Editor Constitution: I understand that several reports regarding the travel of negroes through Dawsonville have been circulated which are detrimental to the town and community and which I hope will be stopped.

There is a distinctive demand for
every staple length, the longer fiber,
of course, being the most valuable.
And yet mills making one article
may use only one length staple,
those making another article still
another length staple, and so on.

The long staples are frequently
penalized by being sold on grade
markings only, whereas the short
staples would not be penalized—
as they have a definite market
of their own—in the event there should be established a universal
standardization.

It is a merchandising problem
that ought to be solved in the interest of fairness to growers.

THE ANTI-TRUST FARCE.

The complaint brought by the department of justice against a large number of southern hardware jobbers, charging restraint of trade,
elimination of competition and other things allegedly in violation of the anti-trust laws, calls to mind not
only the weakness of these laws,
but the more marked weakness of
their enforcement during recent years.

W. J. Donovan, of the department of justice, has admitted that the
so-called anti-trust laws are admittedly weak and need strengthening. But there are many outstanding illustrations
of a still weaker administration of the laws we have. The
action taken, several months ago
against the bread trust will illustrate. It will be recalled the government rejected the Ward Food Products corporation to surrender
its charter. It embraced six other great companies. The companies were divided into groups and for-bidden to hold each other's stock or securities. As a part of the agreement, however, one of the big corporations remained undisturbed
in possession of 83 bakeries.

Whatever may or may not be the
merit of its complaints against the
southern hardware dealers—it is a fact that the methods employed by
the federal trade commission and
the department of justice in handling similar complaints in other
lines have not encouraged the hope that the hearings may be entirely
fair, or above criticism.

It is a merchandising problem
that ought to be solved in the interest of fairness to growers.

THE ANTI-TRUST FARCE.

The complaint brought by the department of justice against a large number of southern hardware jobbers, charging restraint of trade,
elimination of competition and other things allegedly in violation of the anti-trust laws, calls to mind not
only the weakness of these laws,
but the more marked weakness of
their enforcement during recent years.

W. J. Donovan, of the department of justice, has admitted that the
so-called anti-trust laws are admittedly weak and need strengthening. But there are many outstanding illustrations
of a still weaker administration of the laws we have. The action taken, several months ago
against the bread trust will illustrate. It will be recalled the government rejected the Ward Food Products corporation to surrender
its charter. It embraced six other great companies. The companies were divided into groups and for-bidden to hold each other's stock or securities. As a part of the agreement, however, one of the big corporations remained undisturbed
in possession of 83 bakeries.

Whatever may or may not be the
merit of its complaints against the
southern hardware dealers—it is a fact that the methods employed by
the federal trade commission and
the department of justice in handling similar complaints in other
lines have not encouraged the hope that the hearings may be entirely
fair, or above criticism.

It is a merchandising problem
that ought to be solved in the interest of fairness to growers.

THE ANTI-TRUST FARCE.

The complaint brought by the department of justice against a large number of southern hardware jobbers, charging restraint of trade,
elimination of competition and other things allegedly in violation of the anti-trust laws, calls to mind not
only the weakness of these laws,
but the more marked weakness of
their enforcement during recent years.

W. J. Donovan, of the department of justice, has admitted that the
so-called anti-trust laws are admittedly weak and need strengthening. But there are many outstanding illustrations
of a still weaker administration of the laws we have. The
action taken, several months ago
against the bread trust will illus

The Misty Pathway

BY FLORENCE RIDDELL

INSTALLMENT XVII.

FAIRWAYS WOOS RICHENDA.

It was a lovely land—a land of wonderful mystery and color. Long bands of purple shadow floated across the warm brown of the distant mountains. Turquoise and amber butterflies danced among the clumps of creaking gray leaved bamboos which lay behind the white encampment. Great patches of flaming "forest fire" hung, big petalled, among the sloe-green leaves of their mother trees and the fierce splendor of the tropic sun drew a shimmering, scintillating haze up from a meandering watercourse.

Far away in the distance a little train painted at set hours along a winding course and lost itself among the hills.

Night fell swiftly and the loneliness of the strange, wide silences seemed a tangible thing.

"Ugh—it's weird!" Lucille shivered.

"It's wonderful!" breathed Richenda. "Wonderful!" She stood at the tent door by Fairway's side, watching the moon rise. It came like a sudden vision from behind the jagged black peaks that cut the sapphire skyline. They saw it climb rapidly into the heights, then slower, slower, till it shrank and turned silver as its course grew less.

The two gazed, fascinated by the sheer beauty of the tropic night. Down in the valley a solitary tom-tom began to beat a strange wild chant which came up to them in chorus.

Then things began to stir across the hillside—a night bird shrieked in the ravine.

A moment later a strange blood-curdling wail cut through the darkness. Oo-oo-oo! Up the scale it went, an octave and a half, then down again.

"Are there lost spirits near?" whispered Richenda.

"No," he laughed. "Only a hungry hyena yowling his grace before meat."

Somewhere below them a wildebeest snorted uneasily—a zebra gave its sharp, barking cry. Then suddenly a tense silence closed on the countryside.

Hard on the heels of a snarling grunt from far across the plain it came. Again—bigger throated. It rose and swelled till they held their breath in wonder at the volume of it.

"The king of beasts is abroad tonight," said Fairways.

Richenda raised her eyes to his as she gave him the old salute of Africa: "Good hunting!"

He took her fingers between his own in a gentle grip.

"Thank you, little comrade," he said. "Thank you."

The night welcome of the distant beast had fallen to a throbbing echo now—a cricket chirped shrilly in the grass at their feet—a mother bird crooned in the branches of a nearby tree. Africa was at peace again.

Brett Fairways still held Richenda's hand. He seemed to have forgotten that it was there.

She stole a glance at his face in the moonlight. Then her eyes widened suddenly. His mouth was set tight, his chin thrust forward in a hard line. His brows were drawn together in a puckered, frowning line.

A hand that seemed loath to let her go again.

ridge. Every trace of careless gaiety had gone—every soft line had tightened. Suddenly she saw that in his face which had led him to force his way across uncharted lands. This moonlight showed Brett Fairways at his best—showed her, too, line by line, the face of the man of her dreams.

She marveled that he could change so. Then, without a word, he dropped her hand and strode across to his own tent, leaving her standing alone.

The next two days they spent quietly.

"Mercy me, we want to rest our bones after that awful mule cart," Lucille complained, and, laughing, the others complied with her wishes. Fairway's sleeping tent was separated from that of the two women by a third, which made the common room of the party.

"We must share, Dickie," Lucille had said. "I'd never dare to sleep alone in this wilderness!"

Some fifty yards further distant was the canvas apartment of the four native boys.

One of these stood guard as night witchman and tended the two blazing fires which Lucille insisted should be kept on either side of the encampment.

"My dear girl, if you keep your tent flap fastened at night nothing on earth will attempt to get inside," Brett assured her.

"But I haven't read books of adventures for nothing," she answered. "I know all about the 'big hungry eyes that gleam across the firelight' and 'the angry snufflings of baffled beasts who dare not approach too near the glare . . . .'"

"Snuff and nonsense! There isn't a thing on the countryside that won't make off as fast as it can at the first crack of a pistol," he laughed.

But Lucille got her fires.

The two women had adopted the usual dress of the Kenian hunting camp. The loose, limp blouse suited Richenda's boyish beauty. Her knees, showing at first milky white by contrast with the khaki shorts she wore, burned rapidly to healthy tan.

A tall, slim, dark-eyed lad she looked—a beautiful, brown boy crowned with a mass of rioting dark curls.

Brett Fairways saw and wondered at the new loveliness of her. Lucille, carefully massaged, whose suggestion of Bond street perfume hung incongruously about her new attired self, saw, too, and a little evil glint came into the hard blue eyes.

On the third day Fairways and three of the boys went out after big game. Lucille showed no inclination to join the expedition. "I didn't come up here to tire myself out killing things," she said. She was getting slightly irritable lately Richenda decided. "Dickie and I will stay here with Jeroge while you go out and chase the beasts."

He returned that night with the satisfied air of a hunter who has done well.

"No," he told them, "we didn't see the whisk of a lion's tail. I think the hunting of those gentlemen is mostly night work, but—look what is coming."

Progressing slowly up the hillside on the shoulders of two weary natives they saw the roughly decapitated head of an enormous buffalo. The horns from tip to tip spanned some four feet across.

"Good hunting, comrade," he smiled at Richenda. "Buffalo is twice as hard to get as lion and twenty times more dangerous. Moreover, there is another lying dead behind that hill over there. The boys will get the horns for me tomorrow. And there are a couple of buck coming on behind with Macheris and Kiliman. I picked these other chaps up on the road and promised them mingi baksheesh if they would bring those horns along."

"Who-oo I'm grimy! Hey, Jeroge," he summoned the native boy. "Is my bath ready? Say, girls, I guess we'll have champagne for dinner."

The next evening out on the lonely hillside of the "drowsy wilder ness 'neath a myriad smiling stars," Brett Fairways told Richenda Petersen that he loved her.

It came suddenly—a quiet stroll together under the warm, soft darkness—a sudden stumbling over an unseen branch—a lean hand shot out to steady her—a hand that seemed loath to let her go again.

Then she was held tight in his arms, the arms of the Fairways whom she had always sensed existed behind that mask of gay carelessness. Yet winking. He did not plan it. He did not even proffer her a stereotyped proposal of marriage. Neither did he make the tentative inquiry of the modern lover: "What about it, old thing?"

(Copyright, 1926, for the Constitution.)

(Continued Monday.)

Just Nuts

Aunt Het

"I don't like these little linen doilies much. I always suspect they're covering spots on the table cloth."

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE— A Fair Proposition

ANNIE, THAT'S THE FINEST OFFER I EVER MADE—YOU'RE A RIGHT KID ALL THE WAY THROUGH—if there were more people like you in the world it'd be a lot better place for all of us—

TO HOLD OUT A COUPLE OF ACRES FOR MYSELF AND AFTER I SOLD ALL THE LOTS I COULD BUILD A SWELL HOME FOR MIN RIGHT IN THE CENTER OF THE SUBDIVISION—I GUESS THAT WOULD MAKE THE GUMPS THE LEADING FAMILY IN THIS COMMUNITY—it would take brains and hard work to put it over but I happen to have a large stock of both articles—

MOON MULLINS—HOW TO GET YOUR MONEY BACK IF YOU'RE NOT SATISFIED

SOMEBODY'S STENUG—Anything for a Change

GASOLINE ALLEY—LITTLE DROPS OF GASOLINE

WINNIE WINKLE THE BREAD- WINNER

Fawthaw Makes
The First Move

Round of Social Gaieties To Mark August Week-End

This week-end will be marked by a round of social gaieties, which will continue throughout the remainder of the summer season. While many Atlantans are still sojourning in the mountains and at seashore resorts, a large number returned during the week and will take part in the bright social life of the week-end. The dinner-dance at the new East Lake club this evening will inaugurate the gay social program to be enjoyed by members of this popular club, while members of the Piedmont Driving club will dine and dance on the terrace of this fashionable club until late in the evening. Following the matinee performance of the light opera company this afternoon, society will assemble on the terrace of the Atlanta Biltmore for tea, where dancing will also be enjoyed until 7 o'clock.

The presence of a number of prominent and attractive visitors will add pleasure to the day's social events, among these being Miss Cecilia Baker and George Barrett, of Augusta, Ga., who will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Howell; Miss Beverly Northrop and Miss Kitty Jones, of Wilmington, N. C., who are spending some time at the Hotel Biltmore, and Miss Flora Whidby, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., the guest of Miss Corinne Buchanan.

Miss Sarah Foote Is Luncheon Hostess.

Miss Sarah Foote entertained Friday at luncheon at her home on The Prado in Ansley park in honor of Miss Anne Patterson, of New Orleans, a guest of Miss Hannah Sterne. Covers were placed for Miss Sterne, Corinne was placed for the honor guest, Miss Hannah Sterne, Miss Marian Peacock, Miss Rita Davis, Miss Marion Womack, Miss Lena Knox, Miss Frances Barnwell and Miss Sarah Foote.

Miss Dunbar Is Honored.

Mrs. Murray Florence was hostess Friday at a luncheon at the Biltmore hotel in compliment to Miss Minnie

TALMADGE CARRIES COUNCIL APPROVES FIGHT TO WILKES SEWER PROJECTS

Washington, Ga., August 13.—(Special)—Eugene Talmadge, of McRae, candidate to succeed J. J. Brown as commissioner of agriculture in the September primary, spoke to a large audience in Washington today at the noon recess of court. While showing the strain to which his voice was subjected in the joint debate in the open air at Elberton, Thursday with Mr. Brown, Mr. Talmadge showed old time vigor in his denunciation of the Brown machine, declaring that the moral as well as the financial effect of Mr. Brown's practices for the past four years, particularly had been injurious to the people of Georgia.

The speech here was well received and there is little doubt that he will carry Wilkes county in the election. He paid his usual respects to the oil boys and the bee keepers. There are no more of the latter today. I believe Mr. Talmadge said in conclusion, "They all went to Atlanta for a conference after the little fun we had for three hours yesterday in Elberton."

R. J. INGLE, ATLANTA SALESMAN, DROWNED

News of the death of R. J. Ingle, 30, of Greenville, S. C., who was drowned while swimming in the French Broad river at Brevard, N. C., while on a vacation trip with his family, was received in Atlanta.

Mr. Ingle was well known in South Carolina and was a traveling salesman for the J. K. Orr Shoe company of Atlanta. He is survived by his wife and two small children.

again
and again
women say it/

"St. Charles Evaporated Milk makes everything taste as if cooked with cream." Use it for soups and sauces—hot breads, cakes—pudding, pies, ice cream—for delicious coco, too. If the recipe says milk, dilute with an equal part of water; for cream use as is. It's twice as rich as the usual milk. Yet the cost is moderate—and there's no chance of waste—it can be opened. Order by the dozen or half-dozen cans.

WHEELER DECLINES

Doesn't Want General Andrew's Job.

Washington, August 13.—(AP)—Wayne B. Wheeler doesn't want the General Andrews' successor as chief of the government's prohibition forces. And even if he did, he wouldn't take the job under present enforcement conditions.

Wheeler explained that his original challenge to Mr. Andrews' policy of non-resistance to the job was to two dealers, one in McRae, and the other in Elberton, both of whom have been held. Mr. Brown said that he would continue to make speeches in behalf of his candidacy, so that his future program was so filled that it would not permit further debates with Mr. Talmadge. "I have kept faith with my original challenge to Mr. Talmadge," Mr. Brown concluded.

BROWN ASSERTS HE "KEPT FAITH" ON DEBATE DARE

J. J. Brown, commissioner of agriculture, and candidate for reelection, said today that in refusing to meet Eugene Talmadge, of McRae, Ga., rival candidate for the office in further debates, he was acting on the advice of his campaign committee.

Brown explained that his original challenge to Mr. Andrews' policy of non-resistance to the job was to two dealers, one in McRae, and the other in Elberton, both of whom have been held. Mr. Brown said that he would continue to make speeches in behalf of his candidacy, so that his future program was so filled that it would not permit further debates with Mr. Talmadge. "I have kept faith with my original challenge to Mr. Talmadge," Mr. Brown concluded.

ALLIGATOR TRAPPED IN LULLWATER CREEK

Another large gopher ate concern that has made a lot of "fins" in Atlanta during the last 12 months has shown off and gone back home. RED ROCK is always here.

Mr. and Mrs. Speir To Be Honored On Anniversary

A very delightful affair of this evening will be the dinner at which U. H. McMillen will be host at the East Lake Country club as a compliment to Mr. and Mrs. George Caldwell Speir, in celebration of their 15th wedding anniversary.

The guests will include Mr. and Mrs. Speir, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Kohl, of New Orleans; Lieutenant and Mrs. E. R. Wells, Miss Virginia Crocker, Mrs. T. M. Corbitt, Mrs. L. M. Olin Drew and Mrs. Florence.

A number of other affairs will honor Miss Dunbar prior to her wedding.

Mrs. William Candler Honors Mrs. Forbes.

Mrs. William Candler was hostess Friday at a luncheon party at the Biltmore hotel in compliment to Mrs. E. C. Forbes, who, with Mr. Forbes, is spending some time in the city. Fifteen prominent matrons were invited to meet the honor guest.

Members of the local Civitan club met the visitors at the railroad stations this morning and escorted them to the DeSoto, the headquarters of the Civitans, where a luncheon in all parts of the state, many of whom were accompanied by their wives and other members of their families. A special ladies' committee, headed by Mrs. Tattall R. Pritchard, wife of the state president, met the visiting ladies, and will provide entertainment for them during the course of their stay here.

The Macon club had the largest delegation, and arrived in a special Pullman. International Secretary Neal B. Spahr, of Knoxville, Tenn., was among the early arrivals.

After the delegates registered, the business session began, President Mrs. T. L. Pritchard presiding. Rev. A. H. Robinson, pastor of the First Methodist church and himself a member of the Civitan club, delivered the invocation. This was followed by the address of welcome for the city of Savannah, which was delivered by Acting Mayor Thomas M. Hoynes.

Robert L. Colding delivered the address of welcome for the local club.

Harry M. Root, president of the Atlanta club, responded to the two addresses.

The business session adjourned at 1:30 o'clock for luncheon. Many attended the fish fry which took place at the Shriners' country club. At 4 o'clock a river trip was enjoyed aboard the steamer Oglethorpe.

At the banquet which was held this evening at the Shriners' country club, Judge A. B. Lovett and Emmanuel Lewis, secretary of the junior Civitan club, were the principal speakers. President T. R. Pritchard presided as toastmaster.

New Insurance Gains Are Made In All Classes

Emmett Davidson, who qualified Thursday for the post of alderman from the second ward, in opposition to Dr. Moon, was elected on the contest and announced that Dr. Moon deserves another term on his record.

Withdrawal of Mr. Davidson leaves Dr. Moon and Councilman Cullen Allen as the only contenders. Mr. Allen did not offer for reelection to council, but elected to run for the aldermanic position.

Mr. Davidson's statement follows: "There had been rumors current in the second ward that Dr. L. P. Moon, whose services as alderman from that ward have been outstanding, was offered an offer for reelection, and in common with many citizens of the ward I felt that someone holding the same general views as Dr. Moon should represent the ward. I therefore announced as a candidate under those circumstances."

"I now find Dr. Moon is a candidate for reelection, and I feel that his record entitles him to another term as an indorsement. I have decided to withdraw from the race. Very respectfully, EMMETT DAVIDSON."

PASTOR, 67, SHOT AND HOUSEKEEPER SLAIN IN RECTORY

London, August 13.—The Rev. John Alexander Smith, 67-year-old rector at the village church of Grindon, Shropshire, in England, and Hannah Austin, his 37-year-old housekeeper is dead following a double shooting in the rectory today.

Police investigation of the affair is being held up pending Smith's return to consciousness. The housekeeper, who was still alive when she was discovered in the rectory today, died without regaining consciousness. Smith was found in a bedroom.

The wounded minister has been connected with the Grindon church for 24 years. His wife died last January.

Miss Austin had been employed in the rectory for the last 14 years.

HARDWARE CONSENT DECREE IS ENTERED

Washington, August 13.—(AP)—A consent decree in the anti-trust case of the government against the Southern Hardware Jobbers Association and its members were entered into yesterday before Judge Groner, at Richmond, Va.

The government suit involved 132 corporations, seven firms and 31 individuals, all members of the association, former members and associates.

The decree entered today enjoins the association and its officers from:

1. Endeavoring to prevail upon jobbers to sell hardware or any commodity at uniform prices or to in any way restrain competition among the jobbers as to prices.

2. Endeavoring to prevail upon any manufacturer to suggest or to fix the price at which any article of hardware or any commodity shall be sold by the jobbers.

3. Endeavoring to prevail upon any manufacturer to prohibit from selling hardware or any commodity to a jobber who resells such commodity at lower prices than the resale prices suggested by the manufacturer.

More than a dozen other provisions aimed at prohibiting price-fixing among the jobbers selling hardware in the southern states are contained in the decree.

"I would not interfere in the position and promise satisfactory enforcement until the various departments of the government cooperate in this task. Only three subdivisions of one department are now coordinated."

The explanation has been offered for the presence of a two-foot alligator trapped in Lullwater creek near Elberton Saturday. Thursday night by Lewis Watson, W. A. Bell, Jack Mobley and Charles Everett, boys who live in the neighborhood. The youths caught sight of the animal while playing near the creek Thursday afternoon and returning Friday morning had the alligator had fallen into a trap they set for him.

DAILY CALENDAR OF SOCIAL EVENTS

Dinner-dance at the East Lake Country club.

Miss Cecilia Baker and George Barrett, of Augusta, Ga., who will be week-end guests at Pine Hill, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Howell, will be honor guests at the party this evening at the Piedmont Driving club dinner-dance given by Mr. Howell.

Dinner-dance at the Atlanta Biltmore hotel.

C. H. McMillen will entertain at dinner this evening at the East Lake Country club in honor of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Speir.

Miss Catherine Ginn will entertain a party at the Piedmont Driving club dinner-dance honoring Miss Beverly Northrop and Miss Kitty Jones of Wilmington, N. C.

Young ladies of the Atlanta chapter, U. D. C., will hold their regular meeting at 3 o'clock at the chapter house, Juniper and Sixth streets.

Miss Corine Buchanan will entertain at the Biltmore tea-dance in honor of her guest, Miss Flora Whidby, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Miss "Beverly Northrop, of Wilmington, N. C., and Miss Elizabeth Jones, of Martinsville, Va., will be central figures in a party at the Biltmore tea-dance.

SOCIAL ITEMS

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rutledge, of Birmingham, are guests for a few days of Mrs. Lessie McMichael, 561 Ponce de Leon avenue.

Alfred Barili, Sr., who has spent the summer in Clayton, expects to return to Atlanta August 20, and will open his school of music September 6. He has been greatly benefited in health during a three months' vacation.

Miss Dora Ragdale left Thursday for a month's stay in the mountains of north Georgia.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Duggan and Miss Dorothy Duggan will sail from New York on August 15, to visit New York, Atlantic City, Philadelphia and Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Mattox, of New Orleans, La., arrived at the Biltmore Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Albertson, of West Palm Beach, Fla., are guests at the Biltmore.

Among the recent arrivals at the Biltmore hotel include J. M. Gaines, well of Lexington, N. C.; Hunter Marshall, Jr., of Charlotte, N. C.; W. L. Schenck, of Dallas, Fla.; E. W. Marquardt, of Detroit, Fla.; A. W. Bayley, of Wadsworth, Ohio; J. R. Symansky, of Troy, N. Y.; F. J. Loftus, of Baltimore, Md.; George H. Harper, of Baltimore; Herbert W. Maloney, of New York; Walter R. Winget, of Chicago, Ill., and others.

Thomas W. Northrup, Miss Beverly Northrup, Thomas H. Wright, 3rd, of Dr. P. L. Johnson, and Miss Elizabeth Jones, of Martinsville, Va., are prominent guests at the Atlanta Biltmore hotel during their stay in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Williamson and Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Westbrook, of Jacksonville, Fla., are spending a few days at the Atlanta Biltmore hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Reid, of New Orleans, La., arrived at the Biltmore Friday.

Miss Louise Bogle, of Forsyth, is the guest of Mrs. R. N. Fickett, Jr., on Ponce de Leon avenue in Druid Hills.

Miss L. M. Moore and baby are among the guests at the Georgian Terrace.

Mrs. F. N. Wild and Mrs. G. B. Secrest, of Miami, Fla., are recent arrivals at the Hotel Georgian Terrace.

Mrs. Louise D. Newton and children, Eden and Catherine, have returned from an extended visit at Lakemont, and with Mr. Newton have moved into their new home on Bonaventure avenue.

F. S. Marlow, of New York; R. H. Thomas, of Richmond, Va.; F. G. McCormick, of Atlanta, and George D. McCutchen, of Winter Park, Fla., are prominent guests at the Hotel Georgian Terrace.

W. W. Watts, of LaGrange, is at the Georgia Baptist hospital.

Dr. Benjamin O. Holtzendorf, has returned from New York city and Philadelphia. He attended the sesquicentennial exposition at Philadelphia. He completed two post-graduate courses in New York city.

Mrs. Julia Jackson Turner, junior grand matron of the Order of Eastern Star of Georgia, was recently honored by being appointed supreme deputy of the Order of Rainbow for Girls in Georgia.

Hudson Moore, Jr., who has been visiting friends and relatives in the city, has returned to his home in Denver, Colo.

Colonel and Mrs. W. M. Everett have gone to St. Simons Island to spend the rest of the month at their new home by the sea.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hale and Arthur Hale, Jr., have just returned from a recent illness.

Mrs. Claude Keash and children

Joseph Raine, Jr., Will Be Host At Week-End Party

Invited to meet the honor guest were, Mrs. M. C. Pittard, Mrs. Joe Crumley, Mrs. J. S. Wilson, Mrs. Worth White, Mrs. F. A. Sherman, Mrs. W. D. Redwine, Mrs. William Hedges, Mrs. Ridley Harwell, Mrs. P. Williams, Mrs. S. D. Katz, Mrs. Palmer Smith, Mrs. Thomas May, Mrs. J. V. Davis, Mrs. X. J. Stover, Mrs. L. W. Fisher, Mrs. Berta Layton, Mrs. Clara Walters and Miss Minnie Turner.

Other parties will be announced later for Mr. Raine's guests.

Atlanta Imports INCREASING FAST, DECLARE CUSTOMS

Atlanta is receiving numerous shipments of goods imported from foreign countries, according to V. O. Kinsey, in charge of the local customs office. Mr. Kinsey said the increase in imports is due to the general prosperity of this section.

Many of the shipments are consigned to large Atlanta department stores which have European offices and which have sent special buyers abroad during recent months.

have returned to Atlanta after spending several weeks with Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Palmer in Augusta.

Mrs. E. H. Danforth has returned from a visit to New England, where she has spent the past six weeks.

Mrs. Kate C. Weisiger, of Augusta, is the guest of Miss L. J. Farrell, of 98 Atlanta avenue, Atlanta.

Mrs. Harry Ingram and pretty little daughter, Virginia, of Florida, are spending several weeks with relatives in the city.

Lee Silvey, of Seara, Mo., is spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. Duncan N. Ingraham, on Waverley Way.

Miss Miriam Woodall is recuperating from several weeks' illness from fever.

Mrs. Katie Lee Reeves and her mother, Mrs. Lee, are visiting relatives in Columbus.

Mrs. Flin Nance, Misses Evelyn and Orr Lee, have returned from a visit to Selma, Ala.

Jeff McMillan is spending several weeks at East Flat Rock, N. C.

Francis Hurls Crackers To Victory Over Lookouts

Atlantans Nose Out Chattanooga Outfit By Score of 4 to 2

Rod Murphy Leads Niehoffians With Sterling Stick Work, Getting Three Hits Out of Four Times Up in Pitchers' Battle.

BY DICK HAWKINS.

Wielding their willows as deadly effect behind the excellent mound work of Ray Francis, the Crackers took the "Friday, the 13th" jinx by the horns at Spiller Field Friday afternoon and down the visiting Lookouts by a score of 4 to 2.

It was by no means a walkaway for the proteges of Mr. Niehoff. They needed all the hits they were able to get to glean the margin of runs which meant victory. The pitching of Horan was just good enough to keep the locals from poling more than eight hits while the visitors marked up 10 safeties. The difference was that the Atlantans were able to bunch their hits in sufficient numbers to account for markers in the run column, while the "Noogans never got more than one hit in any one inning until the eighth, when they chalked up four safeties and two runs.

Murphy, Griffith Star.

Lewis and Hartford led the hitting list for the visitors with two hits apiece, while Murphy and Griffith came through for the Crackers with three apiece.

There were several bright spots in the fielding of the Atlantans, including a fast double play by Murphy, Niehoff and Niehaus which nipped a Lookout rally in the seventh inning. Murphy, who is playing short for Leo Durocher, will be out of the game for a week with a sprained knee, but the individual fielding honors with Bobo Niehoff. Rod accepted a total of 10 chances without an error, while Bert gathered in a total of 11 without a miscue.

The Crackers started their run-getting in the first frame. Good was thrown out by Kremer, but Niehoff was able to get to the base and play sent his first hit of the game to right field. The boss then scored when Griffith poled a long double to the right field bank. Murphy pulled up at third and after Gilbert had fanned and Haas had been intentionally walked, Niehaus flied to Carroll to end the inning.

Again in the third the locals nudged up two tallies on a pair of base hits and an error by Hamilton. Rod Murphy started the inning by slaming a single over second and went to third when Griffith sent his second hit of the game to center. Gilmore, who was sacrifice fly to right, scoring Murphy, and Griffith also scored when Hamilton let C. Anderson's throw to get away.

Niehaus Scores.

In the sixth the Crackers added another marker to the total when Niehaus was hit by a pitched ball and after stealing second romped across the plate on Ray Francis' hit through the box.

In the eighth the Lookouts threatened seriously to change the complexion of the game when they amassed a total of four hits and two runs. Lewis started the inning by slaming a free pass and went to third on a Carroll single to right. Carroll also singled and scored Lewis, but Carroll was out at third trying to make an extra base. Turner singled and C. Anderson poled a base knock. Hipp hit a sacrifice fly to Griffith, advancing both runners, but Anderson was put in at the plate by Bertie Wofford when Hamilton hit a fast ground ball to Gilbert and the third-sacker tossed the ball to Niehoff. This ended the rally and the visitors were unable to get to the delivery of Francis again.

The final game of the series will start at 6 o'clock Saturday at Spiller Field, with either Cawet or Rogers hurling for the Crackers. The Lookout boss was unable to state just who he would start on the mound for Chattanooga.

CHAT.

ab. r. h. po. a. e.
Lewis, M. .... 4 1 2 1 0 0
Carroll, M. .... 4 0 1 1 1 0
Hartford, M. .... 4 1 2 1 3 0
Turner, C. .... 4 0 1 3 1 0
C. Anderson, r.t. 4 3 1 4 0 0
Hipp, M. .... 3 0 0 2 3 0
Hilmer, M. .... 2 0 2 0 2 1
Kremer, M. .... 3 0 0 1 1 0
Horan, P. .... 4 0 1 2 0 0
Brock, C. .... 4 0 0 2 0 0
Francis, P. .... 3 0 1 1 0 0
Total ..... 36 2 10 24 9 1
Batted for Horan in ninth.

ATLANTA—ab. r. h. po. a. e.
Good, M. .... 4 0 1 1 1 0
Niehoff, M. .... 3 1 0 1 1 0
Murphy, S. .... 3 2 2 8 0
Griffith, M. .... 3 1 2 2 0 0
Gilbert, M. .... 3 0 0 2 3 0
Haas, C. .... 3 0 1 0 0 0
Niehaus, M. .... 3 1 1 1 1 0
Brock, C. .... 4 0 0 2 0 0
Francis, P. .... 3 0 1 1 0 0
Total ..... 30 4 8 27 15 0
Score by innings: 1 0 0 0 0 0

Chattanooga—ab. r. h. po. a. e.
Summary: Two-base hits, Griffith, Niehaus, Lewis; sacrifices, Hamilton, Griffith, Niehaus; double play, Murphy to Niehoff to Niehaus; left on bases, Atlanta 7, Chattanooga 9; bases on balls, off Francis 3; off Horan 3; struck out, by Francis 1, by Horan 3; hit by batter, by Horan (Niehoff); winning pitcher, Francis; losing pitcher, Horan; Umpires, Williams and Brennan. Time of game, 1:36.

EXCURSION SATURDAY, AUGUST 21 FLORIDA-CUBA

Brunswick ..... (Good 4 days) $ 6.50
Jacksonville ..... (Good 4 days) 9.00
St. Augustine ..... 10.50
Daytona Beach ..... 11.75
West Palm Beach ..... 18.00
Miami ..... 19.00
(Good 8 days) 16.50
Tampa ..... 16.50
St. Petersburg ..... 16.50
Sarasota ..... 16.50
P. Myers ..... 16.50
Key West ..... 16.50
Havana, Cuba (Via Key West or Port Tampa and steamer) (Good 15 days) 43.75
SIMILAR FARES TO MANY OTHER POINTS THROUGH SLEEPING CARS—COACHES
MAKE RESERVATIONS NOW

SOUTHERN RAILWAY

City Tickets Office, 48 N. Broad St. Phone WAL 1881-1882

THREE STARS DROPPED FROM ROSTER OF PIRATES

MARIETTANINE IS SHUT OUT BY WAYCROSS

BY DICK HAWKINS.

Waycross, Ga., August 13.—(Special)—The Waycross Coast Liners opened a three-game series with the Marietta Smokers here today, with a 4-0 victory, when Lefty Surratt gave up but one hit and issued no free passes. Only three Smokers got on base. Surratt went hitless until the seventh, when Dowda sent a double to center field.

The series will have a direct bearing on the semi-pro championship race in Georgia, and is attracting widespread attention throughout south Georgia.

The Waycross Coast Liners had the undisputed lead in the Flag league, composed of Georgia and Florida clubs.

Atlanta, Ga., August 13.—(Special)—The Waycross Coast Liners opened a three-game series with the Marietta Smokers here today, with a 4-0 victory, when Lefty Surratt gave up but one hit and issued no free passes. Only three Smokers got on base. Surratt went hitless until the seventh, when Dowda sent a double to center field.

The series will have a direct bearing on the semi-pro championship race in Georgia, and is attracting widespread attention throughout south Georgia.

The Waycross Coast Liners had the undisputed lead in the Flag league, composed of Georgia and Florida clubs.

Atlanta, Ga., August 13.—(Special)—The Waycross Coast Liners opened a three-game series with the Marietta Smokers here today, with a 4-0 victory, when Lefty Surratt gave up but one hit and issued no free passes. Only three Smokers got on base. Surratt went hitless until the seventh, when Dowda sent a double to center field.

The series will have a direct bearing on the semi-pro championship race in Georgia, and is attracting widespread attention throughout south Georgia.

The Waycross Coast Liners had the undisputed lead in the Flag league, composed of Georgia and Florida clubs.

Atlanta, Ga., August 13.—(Special)—The Waycross Coast Liners opened a three-game series with the Marietta Smokers here today, with a 4-0 victory, when Lefty Surratt gave up but one hit and issued no free passes. Only three Smokers got on base. Surratt went hitless until the seventh, when Dowda sent a double to center field.

The series will have a direct bearing on the semi-pro championship race in Georgia, and is attracting widespread attention throughout south Georgia.

The Waycross Coast Liners had the undisputed lead in the Flag league, composed of Georgia and Florida clubs.

Atlanta, Ga., August 13.—(Special)—The Waycross Coast Liners opened a three-game series with the Marietta Smokers here today, with a 4-0 victory, when Lefty Surratt gave up but one hit and issued no free passes. Only three Smokers got on base. Surratt went hitless until the seventh, when Dowda sent a double to center field.

The series will have a direct bearing on the semi-pro championship race in Georgia, and is attracting widespread attention throughout south Georgia.

The Waycross Coast Liners had the undisputed lead in the Flag league, composed of Georgia and Florida clubs.

Atlanta, Ga., August 13.—(Special)—The Waycross Coast Liners opened a three-game series with the Marietta Smokers here today, with a 4-0 victory, when Lefty Surratt gave up but one hit and issued no free passes. Only three Smokers got on base. Surratt went hitless until the seventh, when Dowda sent a double to center field.

The series will have a direct bearing on the semi-pro championship race in Georgia, and is attracting widespread attention throughout south Georgia.

The Waycross Coast Liners had the undisputed lead in the Flag league, composed of Georgia and Florida clubs.

Atlanta, Ga., August 13.—(Special)—The Waycross Coast Liners opened a three-game series with the Marietta Smokers here today, with a 4-0 victory, when Lefty Surratt gave up but one hit and issued no free passes. Only three Smokers got on base. Surratt went hitless until the seventh, when Dowda sent a double to center field.

The series will have a direct bearing on the semi-pro championship race in Georgia, and is attracting widespread attention throughout south Georgia.

The Waycross Coast Liners had the undisputed lead in the Flag league, composed of Georgia and Florida clubs.

Atlanta, Ga., August 13.—(Special)—The Waycross Coast Liners opened a three-game series with the Marietta Smokers here today, with a 4-0 victory, when Lefty Surratt gave up but one hit and issued no free passes. Only three Smokers got on base. Surratt went hitless until the seventh, when Dowda sent a double to center field.

The series will have a direct bearing on the semi-pro championship race in Georgia, and is attracting widespread attention throughout south Georgia.

The Waycross Coast Liners had the undisputed lead in the Flag league, composed of Georgia and Florida clubs.

Atlanta, Ga., August 13.—(Special)—The Waycross Coast Liners opened a three-game series with the Marietta Smokers here today, with a 4-0 victory, when Lefty Surratt gave up but one hit and issued no free passes. Only three Smokers got on base. Surratt went hitless until the seventh, when Dowda sent a double to center field.

The series will have a direct bearing on the semi-pro championship race in Georgia, and is attracting widespread attention throughout south Georgia.

The Waycross Coast Liners had the undisputed lead in the Flag league, composed of Georgia and Florida clubs.

Atlanta, Ga., August 13.—(Special)—The Waycross Coast Liners opened a three-game series with the Marietta Smokers here today, with a 4-0 victory, when Lefty Surratt gave up but one hit and issued no free passes. Only three Smokers got on base. Surratt went hitless until the seventh, when Dowda sent a double to center field.

The series will have a direct bearing on the semi-pro championship race in Georgia, and is attracting widespread attention throughout south Georgia.

The Waycross Coast Liners had the undisputed lead in the Flag league, composed of Georgia and Florida clubs.

Atlanta, Ga., August 13.—(Special)—The Waycross Coast Liners opened a three-game series with the Marietta Smokers here today, with a 4-0 victory, when Lefty Surratt gave up but one hit and issued no free passes. Only three Smokers got on base. Surratt went hitless until the seventh, when Dowda sent a double to center field.

The series will have a direct bearing on the semi-pro championship race in Georgia, and is attracting widespread attention throughout south Georgia.

The Waycross Coast Liners had the undisputed lead in the Flag league, composed of Georgia and Florida clubs.

Atlanta, Ga., August 13.—(Special)—The Waycross Coast Liners opened a three-game series with the Marietta Smokers here today, with a 4-0 victory, when Lefty Surratt gave up but one hit and issued no free passes. Only three Smokers got on base. Surratt went hitless until the seventh, when Dowda sent a double to center field.

The series will have a direct bearing on the semi-pro championship race in Georgia, and is attracting widespread attention throughout south Georgia.

The Waycross Coast Liners had the undisputed lead in the Flag league, composed of Georgia and Florida clubs.

Atlanta, Ga., August 13.—(Special)—The Waycross Coast Liners opened a three-game series with the Marietta Smokers here today, with a 4-0 victory, when Lefty Surratt gave up but one hit and issued no free passes. Only three Smokers got on base. Surratt went hitless until the seventh, when Dowda sent a double to center field.

The series will have a direct bearing on the semi-pro championship race in Georgia, and is attracting widespread attention throughout south Georgia.

The Waycross Coast Liners had the undisputed lead in the Flag league, composed of Georgia and Florida clubs.

Atlanta, Ga., August 13.—(Special)—The Waycross Coast Liners opened a three-game series with the Marietta Smokers here today, with a 4-0 victory, when Lefty Surratt gave up but one hit and issued no free passes. Only three Smokers got on base. Surratt went hitless until the seventh, when Dowda sent a double to center field.

The series will have a direct bearing on the semi-pro championship race in Georgia, and is attracting widespread attention throughout south Georgia.

The Waycross Coast Liners had the undisputed lead in the Flag league, composed of Georgia and Florida clubs.

Atlanta, Ga., August 13.—(Special)—The Waycross Coast Liners opened a three-game series with the Marietta Smokers here today, with a 4-0 victory, when Lefty Surratt gave up but one hit and issued no free passes. Only three Smokers got on base. Surratt went hitless until the seventh, when Dowda sent a double to center field.

The series will have a direct bearing on the semi-pro championship race in Georgia, and is attracting widespread attention throughout south Georgia.

The Waycross Coast Liners had the undisputed lead in the Flag league, composed of Georgia and Florida clubs.

Atlanta, Ga., August 13.—(Special)—The Waycross Coast Liners opened a three-game series with the Marietta Smokers here today, with a 4-0 victory, when Lefty Surratt gave up but one hit and issued no free passes. Only three Smokers got on base. Surratt went hitless until the seventh, when Dowda sent a double to center field.

The series will have a direct bearing on the semi-pro championship race in Georgia, and is attracting widespread attention throughout south Georgia.

The Waycross Coast Liners had the undisputed lead in the Flag league, composed of Georgia and Florida clubs.

Atlanta, Ga., August 13.—(Special)—The Waycross Coast Liners opened a three-game series with the Marietta Smokers here today, with a 4-0 victory, when Lefty Surratt gave up but one hit and issued no free passes. Only three Smokers got on base. Surratt went hitless until the seventh, when Dowda sent a double to center field.

The series will have a direct bearing on the semi-pro championship race in Georgia, and is attracting widespread attention throughout south Georgia.

The Waycross Coast Liners had the undisputed lead in the Flag league, composed of Georgia and Florida clubs.

Atlanta, Ga., August 13.—(Special)—The Waycross Coast Liners opened a three-game series with the Marietta Smokers here today, with a 4-0 victory, when Lefty Surratt gave up but one hit and issued no free passes. Only three Smokers got on base. Surratt went hitless until the seventh, when Dowda sent a double to center field.

The series will have a direct bearing on the semi-pro championship race in Georgia, and is attracting widespread attention throughout south Georgia.

The Waycross Coast Liners had the undisputed lead in the Flag league, composed of Georgia and Florida clubs.

Atlanta, Ga., August 13.—(Special)—The Waycross Coast Liners opened a three-game series with the Marietta Smokers here today, with a 4-0 victory, when Lefty Surratt gave up but one hit and issued no free passes. Only three Smokers got on base. Surratt went hitless until the seventh, when Dowda sent a double to center field.

The series will have a direct bearing on the semi-pro championship race in Georgia, and is attracting widespread attention throughout south Georgia.

The Waycross Coast Liners had the undisputed lead in the Flag league, composed of Georgia and Florida clubs.

Atlanta, Ga., August 13.—(Special)—The Waycross Coast Liners opened a three-game series with the Marietta Smokers here today, with a 4-0 victory, when Lefty Surratt gave up but one hit and issued no free passes. Only three Smokers got on base. Surratt went hitless until the seventh, when Dowda sent a double to center field.

The series will have a direct bearing on the semi-pro championship race in Georgia, and is attracting widespread attention throughout south Georgia.

The Waycross Coast Liners had the undisputed lead in the Flag league, composed of Georgia and Florida clubs.

Atlanta, Ga., August 13.—(Special)—The Waycross Coast Liners opened a three-game series with the Marietta Smokers here today, with a 4-0 victory, when Lefty Surratt gave up but one hit and issued no free passes. Only three Smokers got on base. Surratt went hitless until the seventh, when Dowda sent a double to center field.

The series will have a direct bearing on the semi-pro championship race in Georgia, and is attracting widespread attention throughout south Georgia.

The Waycross Coast Liners had the undisputed lead in the Flag league, composed of Georgia and Florida clubs.

Atlanta, Ga., August 13.—(Special)—The Waycross Coast Liners opened a three-game series with the Marietta Smokers here today, with a 4-0 victory, when Lefty Surratt gave up but one hit and issued no free passes. Only three Smokers got on base. Surratt went hitless until the seventh, when Dowda sent a double to center field.

The series will have a direct bearing on the semi

VIN RICHARDS AND JOHNSTON ON CUP TEAM

BY FRANK GETTY.

West Side Tennis Club, Forest Hills, N. Y., August 13.—Both Vincent Richards, of New York, and "Little Bill" Johnston, of San Francisco, are to play in the team which will defend the Davis cup for the United States next month.

William T. Tilden, 2nd, national singles champion, will be a third member of America's Davis cup team, but upon the outcome of two important matches Saturday and Sunday, determine the selection committee's final decision, which will be announced September 18.

The committee which names the team to defend the prized trophy of the tennis world has been faced this year with the most difficult problem in the history of Davis cup competition, due to the technical skill of the candidates, the question of psychology enters into the deliberations.

No one will deny that Vincent Richards has displayed the best tennis of any American player this season. He has beaten "Big Bill" Tilden consistently and convincingly, and successfully and convincingly, that has been demanded of him since his return from abroad. Logically, then, "Vinnie" would seem to be the choice for one of the singles positions on the American cup team, with Tilden playing in the other brackets.

Question of Psychology. The question of psychology enters into the selection committee's problem. It is considered certain that the French team of Henri Cochet, Rene Lacoste, Jean Borotra and Jacques Brugnon will meet the United States in the challenge round at Philadelphia.

Richardson had poor luck against the Frenchmen. He was beaten by the Frenchman. He was beaten by the Parisians and at Wimbledon earlier in the year.

On the other hand, Billy Johnston, who probably would be defeated by the New York youngster in a five set match in their present form, has always been able to defeat the French players with more or less success.

The committee must consider this.

One thing has leaked out despite the selection committee's secrecy, and that is that no matter which of the two is chosen for the Davis cup singles, the other will play in the doubles.

Johnston has been playing vastly improved tennis since coming to Forest Hills, although at Seabright, it was the weather rather than the superior playing of Takeichi Harada which put the little California out of that tournament. "Little Bill's" stroking has accuracy and skillfulness and his game has been occasionally unparisupered by any other single player in the world.

Johnston is chosen for the singles, Richards and R. Norris Williams will play in the doubles against France. "Vinnie" and Dick showed ability to defeat Tilden and Johnston in the Davis cup trials earlier in the week, and would present a formidable pair to oppose the Frenchmen.

Change About.

On the other hand, if the committee decides that Richards' brilliant play this summer entitles him to a singles berth, Johnston will be partnered with Tilden in the doubles, for "Big Bill" and "Little Bill" were only made to join the others of the "four in the doubles trials."

The East vs. West matches, which began on the Westside courts Friday, have not as yet furnished much of a line on the candidates for the Davis cup team. In the only singles matches played Friday, the east triumphed, Alfred H. Chapman, Jr., defeating Lionel Ogden, 6-2, 6-2, and Vincent Richards beating Ed Chandler, 6-3, 6-3.

The courts were soggy, however, after the heavy rainfall, and there was little opportunity to get a real size-up of Richards' game.

Two days ago the selection committee plans to have its final decision as those between Johnston and Tilden, here Saturday, and between Richards and Tilden at Rye, N. Y., Sunday, in the finals of the southern New York championships.

CRISMANPLAYS
CULLON TODAY
FOR '26 TITLE

Montgomery, Ala., August 13.—(P) Charles Crisman, of Birmingham, and Glenn Crisman, of Selma, the defending title holder are to meet Saturday morning on the Montgomery Country club golf course to decide the winner of the 1926 Alabama amateur championship. This is the seventh annual tournament.

Cullon won his way to the finals, by defeating Jenkins Gillem, a fellow townsmen, five and three. Friday afternoon, Crisman was forced to shoot birds and eagles to defeat Bob Munger of Birmingham, and win his way to the final.

When Crisman beat Munger, he broke the course record for amateurs. The young title defender shot a 72 over the 18 holes. Bob Munger shot the type of golf that an ordinary caddy would have won over, but Crisman seemed to be playing inspired golf.

Epworth Tennis Tourney Today

The Epworth League tennis tournament begins today at Piedmont park at 2 o'clock. There are about 40 entrants, including boys' and girls' events.

Girls' registrations are accepted by the Athletic association until Monday, August 16. Girls' play begins the first of next week. The following is the list of pairings for the first round:

SINGLES.

Simpson, Grace, vs. Jackson, Druid Hills; Wells, Grant Park, vs. Watson, Decatur; Brown, Druid Hills, vs. McKemie, St. Marks; Tanner, Trinity, drew a bye; Gorman, Grace, vs. Phillips, Oakland City; Martin, Park Street, vs. Greenlee, Oakland; Sharpe, Hill, vs. Jackson, Decatur; Brock, Grace, vs. MacDaniel, Martin, Branson, Syron, St. Paul, vs. D. W. Hall, Stone Mountain, Rickenbacker, Druid Hills, vs. C. Hall, Trinity.

DOUBLES.

Greenwald and Phillips vs. Brown and Mahone; Watson and Jackson vs. Rickenbacker and Pharr; Wells and Loden vs. Simpson and Gorman.

GIRLS' SINGLES.

Martha Jackson, Decatur, vs. Mary Ruth DeBardieben, Grant Park; Ruth Terrell, Park Street, vs. Park; Norma Tucker, Grant Park, vs. Norma Tucker, Park Street, drew a bye.

GRILS' DOUBLES.

Mrs. T. S. Wells and Irene Jackson drew a bye; Ruth Terrell and Norma Tucker, vs. Mary Ruth DeBardieben and Dorothy DeBardieben.

Health May Prevent Helen Wills Playing For National Title

Father of Tennis Champion Wires Her To Quit Playing
At Once and Not To Enter Title Matches.

Rye, N. Y., August 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—Helen Wills, women's tennis champion, indicated tonight she might withdraw from the national title play next week as a result of her defeat today in the semi-finals of the New York state tournament by Mrs. Molla B. Mallory, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2.

The three-time titleholder, admitting she was very tired after the first set, wired her father, Dr. C. A. Wills, of Berkeley, Calif., asking whether she should continue her play. Her participation in the championship next week is expected to hinge on his reply.

I felt fine in the first set, but after that things didn't go so well, Miss Wills said. She has been trying to regain form after a two months' absence from the court following an operation for appendicitis in Europe.

Shows Old Form.

The champion displayed a fair superlative brand of tennis today to that she exhibited last week at Forest Hills, N. J., where she fell in straight sets before the chop-strokes of Miss Elizabeth Ryman, of New York, who she defeated. Mrs. Mallory, on even terms, she drove with great pace and precision and was steady at the net under her rival's withering base line fire. The match was played under a scorching sun.

With the tide of fortune running against her in the final set, Miss Wills played with remarkable composure, apparently content to accept defeat. Mrs. Mallory, awaiting her first victory over Miss Wills, informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills would telegraph from Berkeley, Calif., advising that Helen should not play Mrs. Wills said:

Helen intends to play in the tournament next week."

Mother Says Yes

New York, August 14.—Helen Wills, the American women's tennis champion, intends to defend her title at the forthcoming championships next week at Forest Hills. Her mother, Mrs. C. A. Wills, informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

After being told that Dr. Wills should not play Mrs. Wills, she informed the United News early this morning.

Mexican Religious Laws Likened to Prohibition In U. S. by Correspondent

Church Declared To Be Making Losing Fight in Mexico, Since Bulk of Catholics Are Women.

BY JOHN CLAYTON.
(Staff correspondent of The Tribune Press Service, who recently returned to the United States after a month's investigation of the Constitution and the Chicago Tribune.)

Chicago, Ill., August 13.—The Calles government accuses the Catholic church itself with bringing about the recent developments in the church strife, which resulted in the closing of schools and the withdrawal of priests from the churches.

The government declares that it has only two weapons with which to fight the unjust: one is the law, the other the withdrawal of priests and the boycott. Whatever the result of the first, the second is having little effect. There has been little depreciation of trade in Mexico City and the larger towns. In the smaller villages where the priests, a firm grip on the population, the boycott has proven more effective, but Mexican villages do not, as a rule, go for luxuries.

In a way, the anti-church decrees are analogous to the Volstead act. The constitution of 1917, which provides in article 130, the religious regulations on which laws are to be based, and which forbids trial by jury of infractions of the religious laws, was framed by a group of men who could not be considered the constitutional representatives of the people. The decrees which carry out the provisions of the constitution were issued by President Calles without consulting congress. President Calles is called a dictator, but he is not. The electorate which placed him in power is open to grave doubt.

It is safe to say that 90 per cent of the people of Mexico, white in fact, do not sympathize with and every effort to keep the church and state separate, are heartily opposed to the recent presidential decrees and consider them bad laws. The percentage which oppose the Volstead act is the same.

Calles' friends, in supporting his arbitrary dictatorship, point out that illiteracy in Mexico is more than 75 per cent and that these people are not capable of self-government. The laws will be enforced by the government, because the church holds it.

The whole, as well as I can judge from the first few days of the struggle, I believe the church is fighting a losing fight. The bulk of the militant Catholics in Mexico are women. The average Mexican leaves religion to his wife and children. He can be terribly cruel and fanatical when he is aroused. But Calles has the backing of the army and the police; he has the labor element and the Bolshevik element strong behind him. The mass support of American Protestants with whom I speak and the great Orient jurisdiction of Free Masonry.

Mexico needs all the schools it can get, and one would think that the Calles government would bring every effort of the church to instruct the Indian masses.

The church complains bitterly that it is not allowed to teach religious subjects in elementary and primary schools, even where the pupils are destined for the priesthood. As a result of this, the schools, too large to have been built at El Paso for the training of Mexican boys who desire to become priests or whose families desire to educate them for the priesthood.

The government's answer to this is that no child should be forced to attend religion classes until the child has attained the age of reason.

The struggle, in its material phases, is a bitter one and will lead to much more bloodshed before it is finally decided.

The answer of the Vatican to the reform of Juarez was the attempt to establish a church in Mexico.

It is answer to the attempts of the state to dictate church matters of prayer and propaganda. The first lost. Can the second win?

Orchestra Leader Will Die in Chair

Camden, N. J., August 13.—(AP)—Paul W. Fuerstein, former leader of the Camden Philharmonic orchestra, was convicted today by a jury of the murder of Mrs. Harriet Vickers. Justice Katzenbach sentenced him to be electrocuted on September 20.

According to Fuerstein's confession, he shot, killed Mrs. Vickers, former Salvation Army worker, because she was "running around" with a girl he did not like.

In an after-mortuary statement, Mrs. Vickers, who was 22, declared Fuerstein wanted her to go to Germany with him, and that he shot her when she refused. In his confession, Fuerstein also said he told her that he would not be able to see her again and for her to go back to her husband.

"She refused to answer me," he said. "I then got mad and shot her."

Better Business' Sermon Rewarded By Ten Converts

Ten penitents answered the altar call at the revival airdome on Forsyth street Friday night after a fervid appeal for faith and repentance made by the Rev. Luke Rader, evangelist, at the close of his sermon on "Better Business."

The evangelist reviewed the events of the inflation period of 1918 and 1919 and the business collapse that followed it, citing business concerns that had been destroyed in the crash while competitors, prepared to meet it, had weathered the storm and absorbed ill-prepared rivals.

"Safety in life, success in business, salvation in eternity, all are rewards of looking ahead and understanding what you see," the evangelist asserted. "Better business is better foresight."

No service will be held tonight and the evangelist will open the final week of the outdoor revival campaign Sunday night with a sermon on "Happy Homes."

Colonel Wagner Is 82nd Division Monument Leader

Plans for the erection in Atlanta of a monument as a memorial to the 82d division were given impetus Friday night at a meeting of veterans of the former military outfit at the chamber of commerce. The session was opened for an open forum and was presided over by George Harrison, division president.

Mr. Harrison announced that Colonel H. S. Wagner had agreed to accept the chairmanship of the monument committee with Col. John C. Wagner as an early date. Colonel Wagner is absent from the city on vacation and another meeting probably will be held within the next week or two.

You will always be proud of the furniture
you buy here.

Stephen Philibosian, Inc.

STRICTLY CASH

FOR SALE

Flat newsprint paper suitable for small publishers and job printers. The price is right.

P.O. Box 1731, Atlanta, Ga.

MOVE TO HALT DRY VOTE DENIED

New York, August 13.—(AP)—An application to enjoin submission of the state prohibition amendment to the voters was denied today, but the judge who ruled against the application also expressed the opinion that the referendum must rule.

The application was brought by Helen M. Albert as a citizen and sponsor of the New York women's committee for law enforcement. She charged that the referendum was unconstitutional. The action was brought against the board of elections and the mayor.

Supreme Court Justice Crain ruled that the board of elections is a state agency and so no action could be taken against it by a taxpayer.

He wrote in his opinion that the referendum question means all congressional bills from the state to be declared unconstitutional.

Congress cannot abdicate its power to define for purposes of enforcement through the federal courts what shall be deemed an intoxicating beverage and confer upon the states the right to do so for purposes of enforcement through federal tribunals what shall not be deemed a violation of the 18th amendment.

The question proposed as thus construed, he said, "is futile because Congress could not constitutionally do that which it is voting in the amendment would by such vote suggest that it should."

"Congress cannot abdicate its power to define for purposes of enforcement through the federal courts what shall be deemed an intoxicating beverage and confer upon the states the right to do so for purposes of enforcement through federal tribunals what shall not be deemed a violation of the 18th amendment."

To Stage Falling Race of Airplane And Parachute

Airplane and parachute will plunge earthward together at Lakewood Amusement park Sunday afternoon in the strangest race that has ever run above the track that has seen Peter Manning, Joan LaCosta, Sid Haugland and all the other speed kings and queens of equine, human and mechanical origin that the country boasts.

The race, more fraught with peril to the participants than any other Lakewood crowds have seen, was announced Friday as an upshot of an exchange of friendlyrazzing between Captain A. B. McMullen, veteran daredevil, and Jimmy Calhoun, parachute jumper who has thrilled immense crowds at the park by his leaps from a speeding airplane into the lake during the last two Sundays.

Resenting the intimation that parachute jumping is a recreation, Calhoun challenged McMullen to race him to earth from an altitude of half a mile above the house of the negroes jumped out of the open window, almost in the arms of Officer Barrett. The negro is said to have attacked the officer who fired several shots at him. The negro dropped to the ground as if hurt. Barrett kept guard over him while officers of the park chased the other negro several blocks before he was finally captured.

A third negro is said to have escaped in the darkness.

There was no one at the Nabors home at the time of the burglary.

Officers were summoned by neighbors who heard the negroes force open a rear window of the Nabors home.

When they arrived one went to the front door and the other to an open window.

Daniel flashed a light in the front of the house one of the negroes jumped out of the open window, almost in the arms of Officer Barrett. The negro is said to have attacked the officer who fired several shots at him. The negro dropped to the ground as if hurt.

Barrett kept guard over him while officers of the park chased the other negro several blocks before he was finally captured.

A third negro is said to have escaped in the darkness.

There was no one at the Nabors home at the time of the burglary.

Officers were summoned by neighbors who heard the negroes force open a rear window of the Nabors home.

When they arrived one went to the front door and the other to an open window.

Daniel flashed a light in the front of the house one of the negroes jumped out of the open window, almost in the arms of Officer Barrett. The negro is said to have attacked the officer who fired several shots at him. The negro dropped to the ground as if hurt.

Barrett kept guard over him while officers of the park chased the other negro several blocks before he was finally captured.

A third negro is said to have escaped in the darkness.

There was no one at the Nabors home at the time of the burglary.

Officers were summoned by neighbors who heard the negroes force open a rear window of the Nabors home.

When they arrived one went to the front door and the other to an open window.

Daniel flashed a light in the front of the house one of the negroes jumped out of the open window, almost in the arms of Officer Barrett. The negro is said to have attacked the officer who fired several shots at him. The negro dropped to the ground as if hurt.

Barrett kept guard over him while officers of the park chased the other negro several blocks before he was finally captured.

A third negro is said to have escaped in the darkness.

There was no one at the Nabors home at the time of the burglary.

Officers were summoned by neighbors who heard the negroes force open a rear window of the Nabors home.

When they arrived one went to the front door and the other to an open window.

Daniel flashed a light in the front of the house one of the negroes jumped out of the open window, almost in the arms of Officer Barrett. The negro is said to have attacked the officer who fired several shots at him. The negro dropped to the ground as if hurt.

Barrett kept guard over him while officers of the park chased the other negro several blocks before he was finally captured.

A third negro is said to have escaped in the darkness.

There was no one at the Nabors home at the time of the burglary.

Officers were summoned by neighbors who heard the negroes force open a rear window of the Nabors home.

When they arrived one went to the front door and the other to an open window.

Daniel flashed a light in the front of the house one of the negroes jumped out of the open window, almost in the arms of Officer Barrett. The negro is said to have attacked the officer who fired several shots at him. The negro dropped to the ground as if hurt.

Barrett kept guard over him while officers of the park chased the other negro several blocks before he was finally captured.

A third negro is said to have escaped in the darkness.

There was no one at the Nabors home at the time of the burglary.

Officers were summoned by neighbors who heard the negroes force open a rear window of the Nabors home.

When they arrived one went to the front door and the other to an open window.

Daniel flashed a light in the front of the house one of the negroes jumped out of the open window, almost in the arms of Officer Barrett. The negro is said to have attacked the officer who fired several shots at him. The negro dropped to the ground as if hurt.

Barrett kept guard over him while officers of the park chased the other negro several blocks before he was finally captured.

A third negro is said to have escaped in the darkness.

There was no one at the Nabors home at the time of the burglary.

Officers were summoned by neighbors who heard the negroes force open a rear window of the Nabors home.

When they arrived one went to the front door and the other to an open window.

Daniel flashed a light in the front of the house one of the negroes jumped out of the open window, almost in the arms of Officer Barrett. The negro is said to have attacked the officer who fired several shots at him. The negro dropped to the ground as if hurt.

Barrett kept guard over him while officers of the park chased the other negro several blocks before he was finally captured.

A third negro is said to have escaped in the darkness.

There was no one at the Nabors home at the time of the burglary.

Officers were summoned by neighbors who heard the negroes force open a rear window of the Nabors home.

When they arrived one went to the front door and the other to an open window.

Daniel flashed a light in the front of the house one of the negroes jumped out of the open window, almost in the arms of Officer Barrett. The negro is said to have attacked the officer who fired several shots at him. The negro dropped to the ground as if hurt.

Barrett kept guard over him while officers of the park chased the other negro several blocks before he was finally captured.

A third negro is said to have escaped in the darkness.

There was no one at the Nabors home at the time of the burglary.

Officers were summoned by neighbors who heard the negroes force open a rear window of the Nabors home.

When they arrived one went to the front door and the other to an open window.

Daniel flashed a light in the front of the house one of the negroes jumped out of the open window, almost in the arms of Officer Barrett. The negro is said to have attacked the officer who fired several shots at him. The negro dropped to the ground as if hurt.

Barrett kept guard over him while officers of the park chased the other negro several blocks before he was finally captured.

A third negro is said to have escaped in the darkness.

There was no one at the Nabors home at the time of the burglary.

Officers were summoned by neighbors who heard the negroes force open a rear window of the Nabors home.

When they arrived one went to the front door and the other to an open window.

Daniel flashed a light in the front of the house one of the negroes jumped out of the open window, almost in the arms of Officer Barrett. The negro is said to have attacked the officer who fired several shots at him. The negro dropped to the ground as if hurt.

Barrett kept guard over him while officers of the park chased the other negro several blocks before he was finally captured.

A third negro is said to have escaped in the darkness.

There was no one at the Nabors home at the time of the burglary.

Officers were summoned by neighbors who heard the negroes force open a rear window of the Nabors home.

When they arrived one went to the front door and the other to an open window.

Daniel flashed a light in the front of the house one of the negroes jumped out of the open window, almost in the arms of Officer Barrett. The negro is said to have attacked the officer who fired several shots at him. The negro dropped to the ground as if hurt.

Barrett kept guard over him while officers of the park chased the other negro several blocks before he was finally captured.

A third negro is said to have escaped in the darkness.

There was no one at the Nabors home at the time of the burglary.

Officers were summoned by neighbors who heard the negroes force open a